

Watergate Figures Seeking Reversal Of Conviction

WASHINGTON (AP) — The lawyer for former White House chief of staff H. R. Haldeman told the U.S. Court of Appeals today that "we did not get a fair trial" in the Watergate cover-up case.

Haldeman's lawyer, John J. Wilson, said pretrial publicity made a fair trial impossible for Haldeman and three others convicted last New Year's Day and sentenced to terms up to eight years.

Wilson led off arguments before six Appeals Court judges. The lawyers for the other men, John D. Ehrlichman, John N. Mitchell and Robert C. Mardian, addressed themselves to other claimed errors in the trial in arguing to have the convictions overturned. But Wilson said each one was speaking for them all.

Wilson concentrated on the publicity that preceded the case, including the Senate Watergate hearings, the House Judiciary impeachment proceedings against former President Richard M. Nixon and Nixon's resignation.

"The assurances of a juror as to an open mind may not be reliable where there is a deluge of publicity saturating the community," Wilson said.

He claimed that U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica was not thorough enough and did not allow sufficient time for careful scrutiny of potential jurors.

None of the four defendants was in the courtroom. But many of the lawyers involved in the case, both for the prosecution and the defense, were reunited for the first time in many months.

Reagan Donations Outstripping Ford

WASHINGTON (AP) — Preliminary figures show Ronald Reagan has raised more money than President Ford in their campaigns for the Republican presidential nomination.

Reagan also seems to be raising private donations faster than Ford and qualifying for more federal campaign subsidies than the President.

A spokesman for the Ford campaign said the financial gap is probably temporary and of questionable significance.

"If you're a moderate it's a little harder to raise money," he said.

On the other hand, a Reagan campaigner said the figures show broad-based support for the former California governor.

Official finance reports aren't due for weeks. But campaign spokesmen said in response to questions Monday that Reagan raised about $2 million in public donations during 1975 and Ford raised $1.7 million.

On that basis, it appeared that Reagan raised money at the rate of more than $500,000 per month during the last quarter of 1975, compared with $327,000 per month for Ford. A Reagan spokesman said the pace was continuing into 1976.

Reagan campaign lawyer Loren Smith said more than 50,000 persons have given money to the Reagan campaign.

"It isn't just the money that makes us happy. It shows there is support out there," Smith said.

Reagan's financial edge is magnified by public financing. This year for the first time, the government is giving qualified presidential candidates dollar-for-dollar matching grants up to $250 for each private donation they get.

Because the individual donations to Reagan's campaign tend to be smaller than the contributions to Ford's, a greater portion of Reagan's money qualifies for the federal matching funds. Spokesmen said about three-fourths of Reagan's money is matchable, but less than half of Ford's money qualifies.

Based on donations through last October, Ford claimed $374,000 in federal funds and Reagan claimed $600,000. When the first checks went out Jan. 2, Ford got his full amount. Most of Reagan's federal money was held up while government auditors pored over his more voluminous records, but he expects to get the full amount soon.

SST Ruling Pondered By Coleman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Transportation Secretary William T. Coleman Jr. says he will consider economic and diplomatic factors, in addition to environmental values, in deciding whether to allow the Concorde supersonic jet to land at two U.S. airports.

Coleman promised a quick decision during a public hearing Monday, where supporters of the Concorde said the 1,400-mile-per-hour jet was a giant step forward while the plane's opponents said it was a harbinger of ecological disaster.

The plane is being pushed by its British and French sponsors, and officials of both countries contended Monday that their plane not only meets all applicable U.S. standards but that the environmental hazards have been grossly exaggerated by opponents.

They also sounded a veiled warning that any decision prohibiting the Concorde from landings in the United States could bring unspecified repercussions to the United States.

"A negative decision on the question of Concorde service to the United States undoubtedly would have political consequences in both France and the United Kingdom," the governments said.

Both nations acknowledged their plane was noisier than existing subsonic jets but noted the application for Concorde service was limited to two round trips per day to New York's Kennedy Airport and one round trip per day to Washington's Dulles International Airport.

Bitter Cold Sweeps Over Northern U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bitter cold air push farther south through the northern Rockies and northern plains overnight. Temperatures in North Dakota and the central and eastern portions of Montana were well below zero early this morning and falling rapidly.

Snow fell in northern Minnesota, the Dakotas, Wyoming, western Colorado and southern Montana. Accumulations were not immediately heavy, but strong winds created considerable blowing snow.

Up to four inches of new snow was expected to fall on the Black Hills region of South Dakota before the end of the day, adding to the near-20 inches of new snow dumped on the hills last week.

There was lighter snow over Utah and eastern Nevada.

Travelers advisories for snow and strong winds were in effect from eastern Nevada across the central Rockies into the Dakotas, Minnesota and northwest Wisconsin.

Temperatures 20 below zero or colder were predicted for the extreme northern plains by dawn, and sub-zero readings were forecast for the entire day. Readings of 30 below are forecast for the area by tomorrow morning.

Precipitation elsewhere around the nation was limited to showers along the north Pacific coast and to light rain and drizzle in southern Texas. Clear or partly cloudy conditions dominated the remainder of the country.

Temperatures were very cold in the East, with below zero readings from New England into Pennsylvania.

Rhodes, Dems Feuding

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's lawmakers started their 1976 deliberations today amid evidence that feuding in the politically divided state government is going to continue.

Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes, just back from a vacation in Florida, attacked majority Democrats in the Senate on Monday for their failure to act on confirmation of 11 cabinet members. They are being held hostage for political reasons, Rhodes charged.

Nine of the governor's 20 appointments have been confirmed.

Senate Majority Leader Oliver Ocasek, D-27 Akron, promptly denied intentional foot dragging and charged that the GOP, when it ran the Senate under former Democratic Gov. John J. Gilligan, let the latter's appointments hang "for years." Ocasek added, "We'll never match their record."

Appointees may serve until acted on by the Senate.

The exchange, although not as heated as a year ago when the two sides embarked on the highly publicized "Six Day War," showed a struggle ahead in an election year that offers Rhodes and Republicans a chance, however improbable, of regaining control of the legislature.

The 1975 "war," still being waged in the courts, involved Democratic attempts to rush a handful of partisan bills through the legislature a week before Rhodes succeeded Gilligan as governor.

New major issues abound. They include Ohio's troubled economy, consumer matters, a problem already conceded by both parties in the state's cash situation and plans espoused by both to offer Ohio's real estate taxpayers some relief.

Ocasek and House Speaker Vernal G. Riffe Jr., D-89 New Boston, said they hope to virtually wind up business by around the first of May. That would make it one of the shortest annual sessions in recent years since normally both houses work until late summer.

Both chambers had only routine sessions on tap today, but several standing committees called for resumption of hearings on bills carried over from 1975. Closest to approval, it appeared, was legislation pending in both the House and Senate to revamp a formula under which utilities can ask for increases in consumer utility bills.

A vote was near in a House Utilities, Insurance and Financial Institutions subcommittee on one bill sponsored by freshman Rep. Dennis Wojtanowski, D-74 Willoughby Hills. However, he charged Monday that the utilities were seeking to dilute his measure with amendments designed to continue "their Wall Street welfare."

Riffe said the House Finance Committee is expected to reopen the two-year state budget in the legislature's first weeks to see if a way can be found to shift funds among certain departments to avert future cash problems.

And he wants immediate hearings, he said, on a Democratic plan to block future unvoted increases in local property taxes. Rhodes is seeking to bring about a similar freeze through administrative rules changes, but Democrats and others maintain such a rule change would be illegal in the absence of legislative change and a constitutional amendment.

In other developments, on the eve of the new session, Sen. Robert D. Freeman, D-29 Canton, said he plans to reoffer his defeated 1975 bill to suspend the tax on new car sales to help boost employment in the state's auto industry. Freeman's earlier bill fell only two House votes short of passage.

The first term senator said he is more optimistic about the measure for several reasons, and he pointed out "it's a taxcut bill in an election year." He also said it was being offered today without an emergency clause, requiring a two thirds majority vote for approval. It also lacks an earlier provision to suspend the tax on the sale of new cars made in foreign countries.

A joint committee of the Senate and House started hearings last month on Ohio's economic problems. The committee was motivated by the November election defeat of the governor's bond issue-tax hike plan. That panel is expected to make recommendations to the legislature by the end of the month.

Cormany Assumes 4-Year Term As Mayor Of Ashville

Max Cormany, drafted as Mayor of Ashville following the unexpected resignation of James Hopper two months ago, will serve four more years as the chief officer of the village government.

The move, announced at the annual reorganizational meeting Monday night, negated a complicated legal process by council that would have had them select two members from within their ranks for executive positions and two additional citizens to council vacancies.

Village solicitor Leo Hall ruled that Cormany should continue as mayor according to special statutes of the Ohio Revised Code.

A 10-year council veteran, Cormany was appointed mayor Nov. 5 following the unexpected resignation of Hopper. He was president of council at the time.

However, the length of the appointment was unclear because Hopper had sought and won reelection to a four-year term just prior to his resignation.

Hopper was appointed mayor of the village in similar fashion in 1974 when Harold Hartley resigned.

Cormany was elected president of council when Hopper assumed Hartley's post.

In other beginning year business, council welcomed successful candidate George Forquer to its ranks. Marvin Hicks, an unsuccessful council candidate in November, was appointed by Cormany and council to serve the remainder of the mayor's unexpired two-year term.

Nolo Gulick, appointed president of council in the November shifting, was reelected by his peers to the post.

Cormany, Gulick, Forquer, Hicks, councilmen Richard Cook, Gary Throp, and Charles Morrison, and clerk-treasurer Raymond Lindsey were all sworn in by Hall prior to the meeting.

Council okayed a resolution to accept the Sunshine Law, legislation passed by the Ohio General Assembly that makes notification of meetings to the public and news media mandatory.

Hall noted that under the Sunshine Law, no council action had any validity unless it was done in open session. Primary implications of the law, he said, was that persons requesting to be present at discussions and action on specific items must be notified by council. The resolution will be posted on the five village bulletin boards for citizen review.

Councilmen also selected the Ashville Bank as depository of village funds.

In discussions, members tabled action on Blue Cross on increased Blue Cross premiums for village workers until the next meeting to allow time for

10 Protestants Gunned Down In Latest Irish Violence

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — A group called the South Armagh Republican Action Force has claimed responsibility for the massacre early Monday night of 10 Protestant textile workers on their way home from work.

Security officials said they considered the South Armagh Republican Action Force a "flag of convenience" for the militant Provisional wing of the Irish Republican Army.

A man claiming to represent the shadowy guerrilla organization telephoned a Belfast newspaper and gave a code word known to police.

"We wish to claim full responsibility for the shooting last night," the caller said. "It was in retaliation for the killing Sunday night of the Reavey brothers at Whitecross and the O'Dowd family at Ballydugan."

Police said the two pairs of brothers and an O'Dowd uncle, all Catholics, were murdered by gunmen believed to be Protestant extremists who burst into the Reavey and O'Dowd homes and opened fire.

Monday night's massacre was the latest and most gruesome in an escalating series of sectarian killings in South Armagh that began Friday when three Protestants were murdered.

More retaliatory killings were expected.

The police also blamed the IRA for another ambush Monday night in which a police officer was killed and two others were wounded near Castledawson, 40 miles west of Belfast.

The killings raised the confirmed death toll in Northern Ireland's Protestant-Catholic war to 1,413 since August 1969 and 18 since Jan. 1.

Police said at least a dozen gunmen took part in the Whitecross ambush. Unconfirmed reports said there may have been as many as 20.

The police gave this account of the massacre:

The textile workers from a mill at Glenanne were in a bus bound for Bessbrook, a small Protestant enclave in the Catholic-dominated area. One man with a red light flagged the bus to a stop in a driving rain at the Kingsmill crossroads about a mile from Whitecross.

When the bus stopped, the other gunmen emerged and ordered the only Catholic in the vehicle "to make himself scarce." Then they lined the remaining 11 Protestants up on the roadside and mowed them down with sub-machine guns and pistols.

A FRIENDLY DISCUSSION IS AN ARGUMENT IN THE EARLY STAGES

Watergate Figures Seeking Reversal Of Conviction

WASHINGTON (AP) — The lawyer for former White House chief of staff H. R. Haldeman told the U.S. Court of Appeals today that "we did not get a fair trial" in the Watergate cover-up case.

Haldeman's lawyer, John J. Wilson, said pretrial publicity made a fair trial impossible for Haldeman and three others convicted last New Year's Day and sentenced to terms up to eight years.

Wilson led off arguments before six Appeals Court judges. The lawyers for the other men, John D. Ehrlichman, John N. Mitchell and Robert C. Mardian, addressed themselves to other claimed errors in the trial in arguing to have the convictions overturned. But Wilson said each one was speaking for them all.

Wilson concentrated on the publicity that preceded the case, including the Senate Watergate hearings, the House Judiciary impeachment proceedings against former President Richard M. Nixon and Nixon's resignation.

"The assurances of a juror as to an open mind may not be reliable where there is a deluge of publicity saturating the community," Wilson said.

He claimed that U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica was not thorough enough and did not allow sufficient time for careful scrutiny of potential jurors.

None of the four defendants was in the courtroom. But many of the lawyers involved in the case, both for the prosecution and the defense, were reunited for the first time in many months.

The appeals were heard in the huge ceremonial chamber of the federal courthouse — the same courtroom where 15 months ago the jury in the cover-up trial was being picked.

It was Wilson's argument that the jury selection process was faulty; that the trial was so replete with errors that the convictions should be overturned.

All four defendants were convicted of conspiring to cover up the Watergate scandal. All except Mardian also were convicted of obstructing justice and multiple counts of perjury. All four are appealing.

Special Watergate Prosecutor Charles Ruff, working with a depleted staff, engaged a former member of the staff, Peter M. Kreindler, to argue for the government before the appeals court. Kreindler, 30, a 1971 cum laude graduate of Harvard Law School, has never before made a major argument before the appeals court.

Six judges of the nine-man U.S. Court of Appeals agreed to hear the arguments; the others excused themselves without giving a reason.

Haldeman and Ehrlichman, who were Nixon's No. 1 and No. 2 White House aides, and Mitchell, the former attorney general, were sentenced to 2½ to 8 years in prison. Mardian, convicted of only the single conspiracy count, was sentenced to a term of 10 months to 3 years. All have been free pending the outcome of the appeals.

More than 1,000 pages of legal briefs preceded today's arguments. The defendants' lawyers were given 30 minutes each; the government was to have two hours.

THE Pickaway County Treasurer Robert Wood and county prosecutor Richard Gerhardt report some developments in their efforts to collect delinquent land taxes through civil suits.

In August, 1975, the prosecutor filed nine cases against land owners totaling approximately $10,000. Of these original nine cases, two have been satisfied by payment of taxes and have been dismissed. The satisfaction of these two cases has recovered over $1,500 in delinquent taxes.

The prosecutor's office is now in the process of taking default action on another three defendants and the properties will be ordered sold for the back taxes. Gerhardt urges those land owners who have been notified previously of their delinquent taxes to please come into the treasurer's office to avoid having a delinquent land tax suit filed.

SERTOMANS are seeking nominees for their annual "Service To Mankind" award. Deadline for anyone to submit a nomination is Jan. 15.

The award will go to some person who has given unselfishly of his or her time, talent and dedication to help others without receiving recognition or fame for himself. Persons who know suitable candidates should write to David Sealock, 210 Meadow Drive. The winner of the award will be recognized at the Sertoma Banquet in February.

THE Citizen's Planning Meeting, sponsored by the Pickaway County Community Action, is set for 7:30 p.m. tonight in the upper floor of the District Public Library.

PICCA Director Sam Dettra and program planner Mike Melson encourage all citizens of the county to attend.

DEER CREEK Dam Days, the traditional fall observance in Williamsport, has become the opening festival in Pickaway County.

Williamsport Council Monday agreed to allow the festival committee to use village streets once again. However, it was moved up on the calendar to April 29 through May 2.

The New surgical suite at Berger Hospital was officially opened at 8 a.m. Monday. Dr. Carlos Alvarez was the first local surgeon to use the new facility. He was followed later the same morning by surgeons Primo Exconde, F. Moshtaghi and Emily Lutz. Everett Beers Joins County School Board

Everett Beers, Route 1, Ashville, was appointed by the Pickaway County Board of Education to complete the term of John Little who resigned from the board Dec. 15 because his business required that he leave the county. Beers has served 16 years on the Teays Valley Board of Education. He was appointed to represent the county board on the Eastland Joint Vocational School Board.

Nelson Jones was re-elected president of the board and Harold Lindsey was re-elected vice-president. The first Thursday of each month at 1 p.m. was established as the regular meeting date and time for the 1976 calendar year. Board meetings will be held in the county superintendent's office.

The board approved the appropriations to operate the county office for 1976.

In other action, the board voted to continue membership in the Ohio School Boards Association and to purchase liability insurance for board members.

Superintendent Edward Martin was authorized to serve as president-elect of the Ohio County Superintendents Association and to serve on the Legislative Committee of the Buckeye Association of School Administrators.

A bond for Karen Sabine, clerk-treasurer, was purchased from the G. W. Reynolds Insurance Agency of Williamsport.

Attendance at the National School Boards Association Convention April 10-13 was approved for those board members wishing to attend and the county superintendent.

Beers was appointed to represent the board as a legislative liaison with the Ohio School Boards Association.

The board approved a course to be offered by Ohio State University dealing with children who have emotional problems. The course will offer both graduate and undergraduate credit for the participants. It will begin Jan. 26 and run through Feb. 23 with the class meeting Monday evenings from 4:30 p.m. in the conference room in the county superintendent's office.

Approval was given for the submission of a project through Ohio University for a teacher institute to be held this summer. If the project is approved, it will be funded by a grant of $22,000 with the county board supplying $900 in matching funds. Thirty teachers at the senior high level will be selected to participate in the institute. Each teacher will receive ten graduate hours, a stipend of $75 per week, and tuition which is to be paid by the grant.

Superintendent Martin reported to the board that he had received confirmation for a $150 grant from Title VI through the Central Ohio Instructional Resource Center to secure resource personnel in the area of special education for the March 12 teacher institute which will involve all teachers in the county schools.

Approval of the reading guide prepared by Mrs. Marjorie Evans, primary supervisor, from the county office, and representatives from each of the local school districts has been received from the State Department of Education.

Board members present were Everett Beers, Wendell Evans, Bonnie Hildenbrand, Nelson Jones, and Harold Lindsey.

Kidnapers Grab Paris Exec; $3.4 Million Ransom Set

PARIS (AP) — Police say $3.4 million in ransom is ready for delivery to six young gunmen in blue jeans and sweaters who interrupted a board meeting of France's largest record company, tied up the chairman and carried him off in a wicker basket past an unsuspecting guard.

Louis Hazan, 54-year-old head of the Phonogram Co., was kidnaped Dec. 31 from his company's offices in the center of Paris, but the police kept the story under wraps for five days.

They said the kidnapers, who were between 25 and 30 years old, had talked several times by telephone with Hazan's wife. Police gave no information about arrangements for payment of the money and the release of the missing man.

Phonogram is a subsidiary of the giant Dutch Phillips company.

The five men apparently got into the Phonogram offices without being stopped because they were dressed like the young rock stars who frequent the place. And the man-size wicker basket in which they carried Hazan off looked like the bulky amplifying gear rock musicians often carry.

The five "came into the room without warning and at first we thought it was some kind of joke," said Claude Hautefeuille, the firm's secretary-general. "But we very quickly realized it was serious."

One of the intruders asked, "Who is the chief executive?" Hazan rose and was immediately tied up and placed inside the basket. The gunmen then locked four other board members in the room and took a fifth, the company's financial director, with them.

The basket was taken away on a van. The financial director was taken a short distance by two of the kidnapers in another car, then released with the key to the locked boardroom. He called the police.

Hautefeuille said he thought the kidnapping might be connected with a bomb explosion outside Phonogram's

Ohio Man Faces Murder Charge

PARKERSBURG, W.Va. (AP) — Bond has been set at $30,000 for an Ohio man charged with the fatal beating of a fellow inmate at the Wood County Correctional Center.

Circuit Judge Donald Black set bond during a hearing Monday for Franklin Rowe, 50, of Belpre. He also assigned attorney Joseph W. McFarland to represent Rowe.

The Ohio man was charged Sunday in connection with the beating death Saturday of Floyd Malone, 52, of Waverly, Wood County. Malone and Rowe were among four inmates lodged in the detoxification unit of the jail when a fight broke out.

Critically injured in the fight was another inmate, Ardell Braden, 62, of Parkersburg.

Woman Serves Unexpired Term

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Jean Sullivan, serving the final year of her husband's term in the Indiana Senate, says she hopes to do as good a job as he did — if not better.

And she says people who underestimate her, as some party workers did before she won election to fill her husband's vacancy, are in for a surprise.

"I think a lot of people really welcome me because they think a woman's view helps them, too," she added Monday.

Williamsport Council Sets Another Zoning Hearing

After holding second reading on an embattled zoning ordinance, Williamsport councilmen announced that another public meeting on the topic would be held later this month.

The meeting will be Wednesday, Jan. 21, at 7:30 p.m. Location of the meeting will be announced later.

Paul Long was sworn in as Mayor of Williamsport by John Reynolds. Robert Metzger was sworn in as councilman, George Ann Puffinbarger as clerk-treasurer, and Malcolm Grady and George Kaiser as members of the Board of Public Affairs.

Newly-elected councilman Wilson Thomas was sworn into office Dec. 29.

Other members of council are Harman Lemming, Gene Smith, Lonzie Rigsby, and Reynolds.

Metzger was reelected council president.

In other business, council hired the firm Cargo, Barrett, and Withers, Inc., to begin engineering work on the replacement of village-owned gas distribution lines.

Money for the project was made available through a $238,000 grant from the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Council accepted a resolution accepting amounts and rates as determined by the budget commission and certified by the county auditor. Appropriations for 1976 totaled $248,365.98.

Fifteen Plectron alert monitors were purchased by council for the Williamsport Volunteer Fire Department, council raised hourly wages paid by the village to $2.30 an hour to coincide with new minimum wage laws, they entered into an agreement with the Circleville Fire Department for mutual aid for three years, and agreed to renew membership in the Ohio Municipal League for 1976.

Next meeting is Monday, Feb. 2, at 7 p.m.

Circleville Man Arrested For Desertion

Nineteen-year-old Elmer E. Hill Jr. of 130 York St., was arrested by Sheriff's Deputy Bill Dountz for desertion.

Hill, who had been on a 30 day leave from the service since Oct. 30, 1975, failed to return to duty at Camp Legune. Hill was apprehended in the village of Williamsport.

Authorities are holding Hill for pickup by the FBI.

Thieves Net $4000 In Burglaries

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies investigated four burglaries which netted thieves approximately $4000 in home and auto goods.

Ronald E. Seggerman, Clarksburg, reported that while his disabled truck was parked along Canal Road for 45 minutes Monday, thieves removed the tires and rims and left the vehicle setting on cement blocks.

Seggerman had gone for assistance around 7 p.m. and returned finding the wheels gone. Value was set at $580.

Thieves took stereo equipment and money from the residence of Robert R. Edstrom, Route 1, Lockbourne, while he was on vacation, Jan. 1-5.

According to Edstrom, thieves gained entry through the front door. The stereo and amount of money taken totaled $1734.

A rear door window was broken by thieves to gain entry to the home of Beverly S. Younklin, Route 1, Orient, sometime between Jan. 2-5.

A television and stereo home entertainment console, valued at $1200, were taken by the thieves.

NOW that the Christmas rush is behind and 1976 has become an icy reality, Friends of the Library would like to remind Pickaway County Countians the Pickaway County District Public Library is planning a series of four lectures in January entitled "Taxation With Representation" . . .

The talks will be presented after regular library hours on the last four Friday nights of the month . . .

At 7:30 p.m. January 9, a representative from H and R Block will discuss Mr. Average Taxpayer . . .

On January 16, John Adkins will explore the legal aspects of the tax system, such as the problems of litigation . . .

On Jan. 23, accountant Louise Hill will explain special kinds of taxpayers and the problems of estimated returns . . .

During the final session on January 30, a representative from the Internal Revenue Service in Cincinnati will be on hand to share information and answer questions . . .

Each meeting will last approximately one hour and a half and will provide a discussion period when questions may be directed to the speakers . . . Light refreshments will also be served by the Friends . . .

The library staff and the Friends of the Library would like to urge Pickaway Countians to avail themselves of the opportunity to obtain free, first-hand information from these experts.

Everett Beers Joins County School Board

Everett Beers, Route 1, Ashville, was appointed by the Pickaway County Board of Education to complete the term of John Little who resigned from the board Dec. 15 because his business required that he leave the county. Beers has served 16 years on the Teays Valley Board of Education. He was appointed to represent the county board on the Eastland Joint Vocational School Board.

Nelson Jones was re-elected president of the board and Harold Lindsey was re-elected vice-president. The first Thursday of each month at 1 p.m. was established as the regular meeting date and time for the 1976 calendar year. Board meetings will be held in the county superintendent's office.

The board approved the appropriations to operate the county office for 1976.

In other action, the board voted to continue membership in the Ohio School Boards Association and to purchase liability insurance for board members.

Superintendent Edward Martin was authorized to serve as president-elect of the Ohio County Superintendents Association and to serve on the Legislative Committee of the Buckeye Association of School Administrators.

A bond for Karen Sabine, clerk-treasurer, was purchased from the G. W. Reynolds Insurance Agency of Williamsport.

Attendance at the National School Boards Association Convention April 10-13 was approved for those board members wishing to attend and the county superintendent.

Beers was appointed to represent the board as a legislative liaison with the Ohio School Boards Association.

The board approved a course to be offered by Ohio State University dealing with children who have emotional problems. The course will offer both graduate and undergraduate credit for the participants. It will begin Jan. 26 and run through Feb. 23 with the class meeting Monday evenings from 4-6:30 p.m. in the conference room in the county superintendent's office.

Approval was given for the submission of a project through Ohio University for a teacher institute to be held this summer. If the project is approved, it will be funded by a grant of $22,000 with the county board supplying $900 in matching funds. Thirty teachers at the senior high level will be selected to participate in the institute. Each teacher will receive ten graduate hours, a stipend of $75 per week, and tuition which is to be paid by the grant.

Superintendent Martin reported to the board that he had received confirmation for a $150 grant from Title VI through the Central Ohio Instructional Resource Center to secure resource personnel in the area of special education for the March 12 teacher institute which will involve all teachers in the county schools.

Approval of the reading guide prepared by Mrs. Marjorie Evans, primary supervisor, from the county office, and representatives from each of the local school districts has been received from the State Department of Education.

Board members present were Everett Beers, Wendell Evans, Bonnie Hildenbrand, Nelson Jones, and Harold Lindsey.

Kidnapers Grab Paris Exec; $3.4 Million Ransom Set

PARIS (AP) — Police say $3.4 million in ransom is ready for delivery to six young gunmen in blue jeans and sweaters who interrupted a board meeting of France's largest record company, tied up the chairman and carried him off in a wicker basket past an unsuspecting guard.

Louis Hazan, 54-year-old head of the Phonogram Co., was kidnaped Dec. 31 from his company's offices in the center of Paris, but the police kept the story under wraps for five days.

They said the kidnapers, who were between 25 and 30 years old, had talked several times by telephone with Hazan's wife. Police gave no information about arrangements for payment of the money and the release of the missing man.

Phonogram is a subsidiary of the giant Dutch Phillips company.

The five men apparently got into the Phonogram offices without being stopped because they were dressed like the young rock stars who frequent the place. And the man-size wicker basket in which they carried Hazan off looked like the bulky amplifying gear rock musicians often carry.

The five "came into the room without warning and at first we thought it was some kind of joke," said Claude Hautefeuille, the firm's secretary-general. "But we very quickly realized it was serious."

One of the intruders asked, "Who is the chief executive?" Hazan rose and was immediately tied up and placed inside the basket. The gunmen then locked four other board members in the room and took a fifth, the company's financial director, with them.

The basket was taken away on a van. The financial director was taken a short distance by two of the kidnapers in another car, then released with the key to the locked boardroom. He called the police.

Hautefeuille said he thought the kidnaping might be connected with a bomb explosion outside Phonogram's

Ohio Man Faces Murder Charge

PARKERSBURG, W.Va. (AP) — Bond has been set at $30,000 for an Ohio man charged with the fatal beating of a fellow inmate at the Wood County Correctional Center.

Circuit Judge Donald Black set bond during a hearing Monday for Franklin Rowe, 50, of Belpre. He also assigned attorney Joseph W. McFarland to represent Rowe.

The Ohio man was charged Sunday in connection with the beating death Saturday of Floyd Malone, 52, of Waverly, Wood County. Malone and Rowe were among four inmates lodged in the detoxification unit of the jail when a fight broke out.

Critically injured in the fight was another inmate, Ardell Braden, 62, of Parkersburg.

Woman Serves Unexpired Term

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Jean Sullivan, serving the final year of her husband's term in the Indiana Senate, says she hopes to do as good a job as he did — if not better.

And she says people who underestimate her, as some party workers did before she won election to fill her husband's vacancy, are in for a surprise.

"I think a lot of people really welcome me because they think a woman's view helps them, too," she added Monday.

County Receives License Revenue

Pickaway County received $77,861.91 when Gov. James A. Rhodes released a fourth installment of 1974 vehicle license revenues for distribution among Ohio's 88 counties.

"We have received a number of pleas for help to meet cash flow problems at the county level," Rhodes explained, "so instead of waiting to issue the final payment in March 1976, we are taking this unprecedented step to help County Auditors and Engineers meet their financial obligations now."

The Governor said that Bureau of Motor Vehicles Registrar Curtis Andrews is now in the process of releasing funds totaling $15.7 million with all funds earmarked for local street and road maintenance and improvement projects. Coupled with earlier 1975 disbursements of $126.5 million, this week's allocation will bring the total vehicle license taxes returned to local taxing districts since last June to more than $141.3 million.

"A fourth advance distribution of vehicle tax revenue is not normally made," Rhodes said, "but this year's schedule has been upset by the effects of House Bill 90. For the first time ever, the 1974 vehicle license tag sale was extended six weeks past the historical conclusion on March 15. With sales continuing to April 30, the normal closing of the 1974 taxing district accounts could not be accomplished in December as it has been in the past."

This work of assigning each individual vehicle registration — almost 8 million this year — to its proper taxing district should be finished during the first quarter of 1976.

BMV Registrar Andrews said that he has requested Auditor of State to prepare the warrants for this advance distribution and that as soon as they are received from the Auditor, the BMV will mail them to each County Auditor.

Rhodes Ends Suit Threat

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Citing policy changes within the Federal Power Commission, Gov. James A. Rhodes on Monday withdrew his threat to sue the federal agency.

In a letter to Atty. Gen. William J. Brown, Rhodes said the FPC is taking action to change restrictions on use of interstate natural gas pipelines.

It was those restrictions which prompted Rhodes last Dec. 9 to ask Brown to begin a lawsuit.

"Accordingly, I am asking you to withdraw any legal proceeding initiated," he said.

Rhodes was unhappy with FPC regulations which restrict use of pipelines for gas shipments between states. Rhodes argued the pipelines may be needed for shipments within Ohio to stop shortages of gas.

No lawsuit has been filed. A spokesman for the attorney general said lawyers have been researching the lawsuit for the past month.

The spokesman said because of the research time already invested, a memorandum to Rhodes would be written outlining the legal questions involved.

Business News

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Armentrout of Five Points, along with 41 other employees and associates of Mid Ohio Chemical Co. of Mt. Sterling, have just returned from a 7-day Caribbean cruise. They visited Haiti, St. Thomas, San Juan, Puerto Rico and Nassau on board the Italian ocean liner, Angelina Lauro.

Right Turn On Red Works Out

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohioans apparently have adapted reasonably well to the six-month-old state law that permits motorists to turn right on red after stopping at intersections.

Robert D. McMillen, state traffic engineer, said he has heard only of "a few minor problems" but none that would indicate police would like to do away with the statute.

But he said a full scale evaluation being conducted by the Department of Transportation won't be finished for several months. "We won't be able to get accident reports until the law has been in effect for at least a year," he said.

McMillen said he has heard of only a few accidents, and some complaints about drivers honking their horns to try to get the car ahead to move out of their path.

The state official condemned the horn blowing, saying "they (the honkers) don't have the right to the intersection until the other car moves."

In Akron, City Traffic Engineer David Fielder agreed that the law has worked "reasonably well . . . The problems I thought might arise just haven't occurred."

However, Fielder mentioned two serious accidents, including one that claimed the life of a 62-year-old woman. In both accidents, drivers apparently saw cars ahead make legal right turns and thought the light had changed to green, proceeding into the intersection to be struck broadside.

Fielder said he was concerned originally that the law would be hazardous for pedestrians but that it apparently hasn't. "We don't have any record of a pedestrian being hit by a car turning right on red," he said.

In Columbus, Police Sgt. Lawrence Mead, spokesman for the chief's office, echoed Fielder's comments and added "it really hasn't been a problem for us."

Mead said "some of us were apprehensive about it at first, but it hasn't caused any increase in accidents, and it helps move the traffic." He said he also was concerned about pedestrians at first "but that doesn't seem to be materializing."

Under the law, motorists may turn right on red after stopping unless a sign is posted stating that no turns are permitted on red.

Columbus and other cities have virtually completed marking the intersections they want restricted although Mead said he expects them to be changed from time to time based on accident statistics, complaints, and supporting evidence.

For the first time ever, the 1974 vehicle license tag sale was extended six weeks past the historical conclusion on March 15. With sales continuing to April 30, the normal closing of the 1974 taxing district accounts could not be accomplished in December as it has been in the past."

This work of assigning each individual vehicle registration — almost 8 million this year — to its proper taxing district should be finished during the first quarter of 1976.

BMV Registrar Andrews said that he has requested Auditor of State to prepare the warrants for this advance distribution and that as soon as they are received from the Auditor, the BMV will mail them to each County Auditor.

Rhodes Ends Suit Threat

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Citing policy changes within the Federal Power Commission, Gov. James A. Rhodes on Monday withdrew his threat to sue the federal agency.

In a letter to Atty. Gen. William J. Brown, Rhodes said the FPC is taking action to change restrictions on use of interstate natural gas pipelines.

It was those restrictions which prompted Rhodes last Dec. 9 to ask Brown to begin a lawsuit.

"Accordingly, I am asking you to withdraw any legal proceeding initiated," he said.

Rhodes was unhappy with FPC regulations which restrict use of pipelines for gas shipments between states. Rhodes argued the pipelines may be needed for shipments within Ohio to stop shortages of gas.

No lawsuit has been filed. A spokesman for the attorney general said lawyers have been researching the lawsuit for the past month.

The spokesman said because of the research time already invested, a memorandum to Rhodes would be written outlining the legal questions involved.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Armentrout of Five Points, along with 41 other employees and associates of Mid Ohio Chemical Co. of Mt. Sterling, have just returned from a 7-day Caribbean cruise. They visited Haiti, St. Thomas, San Juan, Puerto Rico and Nassau on board the Italian ocean liner, Angelina Lauro.

Right Turn On Red Works Out

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohioans apparently have adapted reasonably well to the six-month-old state law that permits motorists to turn right on red after stopping at intersections.

Robert D. McMillen, state traffic engineer, said he has heard only of "a few minor problems" but none that would indicate police would like to do away with the statute.

But he said a full scale evaluation being conducted by the Department of Transportation won't be finished for several months. "We won't be able to get accident reports until the law has been in effect for at least a year," he said.

McMillen said he has heard of only a few accidents, and some complaints about drivers honking their horns to try to get the car ahead to move out of their path.

The state official condemned the horn blowing, saying "they (the honkers) don't have the right to the intersection until the other car moves."

In Akron, City Traffic Engineer David Fielder agreed that the law has worked "reasonably well . . . The problems I thought might arise just haven't occurred."

However, Fielder mentioned two serious accidents, including one that claimed the life of a 62-year-old woman. In both accidents, drivers apparently saw cars ahead make legal right turns and thought the light had changed to green, proceeding into the intersection to be struck broadside.

Fielder said he was concerned originally that the law would be hazardous for pedestrians but that it apparently hasn't. "We don't have any record of a pedestrian being hit by a car turning right on red," he said.

In Columbus, Police Sgt. Lawrence Mead, spokesman for the chief's office, echoed Fielder's comments and added "it really hasn't been a problem for us."

Mead said "some of us were apprehensive about it at first, but it hasn't caused any increase in accidents, and it helps move the traffic." He said he also was concerned about pedestrians at first "but that doesn't seem to be materializing."

Under the law, motorists may turn right on red after stopping unless a sign is posted stating that no turns are permitted on red.

Columbus and other cities have virtually completed marking the intersections they want restricted although Mead said he expects them to be changed from time to time based on accident statistics, complaints, and supporting evidence.

Speeding The Mail

We note with interest the takeover of many mail functions by electronics, which bypasses the Postal Service in some instances.

The move is worrying postal officials because it would mean a cutback in the mail volume, thus loss of revenue. How can you keep 700,000 people employed when your business drops off?

Obviously, with expansion of such a system, it could mean the nation's postal system would not have to be as large, but the mismanagers apparently are not willing to give up any of their empire. However, we could suggest many means of speeding the flow of mail. Perhaps most beneficial would be a system whereby third-class or "junk" mail could be electronically sent directly from mass advertiser to "occupant" with special circuits that would automatically speed it into the trash can.

Sexism In Kindergarten

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE
For generations, people have thought it typical for small boys to get dirty, chase frogs, put thumbtacks on chair seats and snitch turkey while somebody was saying the blessing.

Now we know, because social psychologists say so, that this is a sexist stereotype. Stamp it out. Small children are "conditioned" to behave stereotypically, they say, and there is really no basic difference between the sexes except that boys' motor muscles develop later than girls' and they can't get pregnant.

This relatively recent theory puzzles some mothers whose daughters are afraid of frogs and don't have the inclination to install thumbtacks in touch-and-go situations: "I never told my little girl she shouldn't act like her brother," a Mom claims, "but she doesn't. I thought it was because she was gentler. Now I understand she's to be regarded as a sexist - at the age of three."

The challenge of the feminists in social psych is this: Treat your youngsters alike, and they will be equal. Girls have every right to be as aggressive and slovenly as boys. The fact that, even in some of your better play-pens, tiny girls appear kempt while small boys look as though they'd had a close brush with wild boars, has nothing to do with it. Given equal treatment, the children should come out equal.

Despite this challenge, America seems to have a distance to go in achieving the ideal - if it is, indeed, ideal - and feminists may be whistling in the dark while looking at the world through unisex glasses. New research shows the prejudices regarding sex-role differences lie deep and strong inside the psyches not only of adults and adolescents, but of children who cannot even pronounce "sex."

A Harvard psychologist, Marcia Guttentag, put together a research team. They developed a six-week curriculum to teach sexual equality to more than 1,000 children of various ages in the Boston school districts. Their purpose: To find whether incipient sexism could be nipped in the budding stage.

The findings are fascinating... The studies involved three types of stereotypes: work, family and personality. The children were taught that women could do any job men do, and that men can have fun doing jobs around the house with the families. They were taught women can be assertive and competent, while men can be sensitive and warm. According to "Psychology Today," which researched the research, the teachers quickly discovered that most children were "seasoned sexists," even at the age of five.

A majority of kindergartners in the program were convinced "that boys are strong and fine and can do all sorts of interesting jobs, but that girls are weak and silly and best kept at home." It didn't matter whether the youngsters were rich or poor, or whether their mothers had careers or not. They all felt much the same.

Efforts to change these anti-feminist opinions in young minds did not work as well as the teachers hoped. "To their surprise, fifth-grade boys with working mothers - and ninth-grade boys with working and nonworking mothers - became notably more stereotyped in their views of women, and more rigid about 'woman's place' after the six-week program than they had been at the beginning." (Showing, perhaps, that boys don't like to be told what to think?) It mattered little whether their mothers worked as waitresses or as doctors, the boys of employed moms went along with peer-group thinking rather than the example at home - seeing women as professionally less capable than men.

One 10-year-old, for example, was given a picture of a female mechanic working on a car, and told to create a story about it. "... She fixes the car good and she's been asking for a raise for a long time," he wrote.

"Since she did a good job he is going to give her a big raise. She thought that was great. When he gave her an extra bonus, she got to go home and cook a meal because her father was at work where he was a chef in a pizza place." Then the 10-year-old's ambivalence took over: "But when she went home, the boss found a mistake. There was a hole in a gasoline part and it cost him a whole lot of money... when he shut the trunk the whole car fell apart. And then he got ferocious and called her up and said, 'You are fired.' The end."

The Guttentag Research did find some beneficial results - among the older girls. While the boys were looking into traditional opinions about male-female relationships, the ninth-grade girls latched onto feminism with enthusiasm. Hearing what they wanted to hear - that they were every bit as capable as the other sex - the older girls flourished with ideas and ambitions. Thus, even in the first stage of high school, the gap between the sexes widened on the matter of feminism.

One conclusion of the study seems to be that children are open to new concepts but, as one observer put it, "It's tough to persuade boys (particularly) to give up the comforts of having Mom at home to gain something so abstract as a flexible personality."

Another conclusion, which may or may not be drawn depending on one's views on sexism, is that male resistance to the sexual equality movement may be deeper - and begin younger - than the social psychologists ever imagined.

Watchman Has Unique Position

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP) — When the six-ton bronze bell finished tolling midnight, Willy Annen stepped out of his wooden cubicle in the wind-swept belfry of Lausanne's ancient cathedral.

"C'est le guet — this is the watchman," he shouted into the wintry darkness. "It struck twelve." Below, a handful of people, headed home from a bottle of wine in an old town bistro, stopped to listen.

Calling the hours from 10 p.m. to 6 a.m. from the gothic tower is the same every night for Annen, whose job may be unique in Europe today. It has been the same for scores of his predecessors performing the lofty function for at least six centuries.

Annen's "home" is a tiny, wood-paneled cell 158 steps up from street level right between the two huge bells and below five others.

"I am living amid 25 tons of bells but I manage to sleep well," the burly 54-year-old bachelor says.

There is a bed, a bench, a radio, a telephone and an alarm clock. There are a few picture postcards tacked to the wall and a calendar advertising the brewery for which he works at daytime as a truck driver. The alarm wakes him up five minutes before the hour.

When he calls a particular hour, Annen resets the alarm for an hour later. He claims he immediately falls fast asleep again for 50 minutes. "It takes me a maximum of three minutes to doze off," he explains. "I have found my own rhythm of sleeping and I don't mind."

No one calls the hours during the day until Annen comes to work at 10 p.m. A purist, Annen sends his deep-throated bass voice through cone-shaped hands rather than through the metal megaphone used by previous watchmen. Depending on wind conditions, he can be heard up to almost a mile away.

Only once, last summer, was he forced to skip a night after a rainstorm of near hurricane force flooded his cubicle. But as soon as the roof leak was repaired he was back, joined by a couple of friends to celebrate the event with a few glasses of wine.

Annen took over as watchman 15 years ago, drawing the equivalent of $4.50 a night. At one time, an economy minded city official proposed dropping the post as the watchman's principal task — spotting fires — had long ago been outmoded.

This stirred a successful protest from tradition-minded residents. City hall yielded and even named Annen a municipal employee with fringe benefits and pension rights. He now draws the equivalent of $370 a year from the city in addition to his pay for his daytime work.

Annen says he has never felt bored in his cell. Once he turned down an offer to install a TV set. "There is no shortage of exciting sights here," he said. If the weather is clear, he has a panoramic view of Lake Geneva and the towering Savoy Alps up to about 65 miles away.

Flag Back On Police Uniforms

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Columbus police will wear American flags on their uniforms during the Bicentennial year — as they have for the past five years, Police Chief Earl Burden says.

Burden ordered last week that the patches be stripped by Feb. 1. But he rescinded that command Monday, saying, "We wish to retain the goodwill and support of the citizens of Columbus. It's obvious they wish us to continue wearing the flag."

The order caused "considerable controversy in the community," a statement from his office said.

A five-man uniform committee recommended removing the patches because they "were hard to keep on uniforms and were hard to line up...and detracted from the appearance of the uniform."

Burden said the committee based its recommendation "upon research which indicated that wearing of the flag in this fashion was never intended." There also are no available guidelines about how a flag should be worn, he said.

"It was their opinion, and I agree," said Burden, "that in the absence of proper guidelines, greater respect is shown by not wearing the flag."

He said, however, "there is considerable opinion to the contrary, both within the division of police and within the community."

Today In History

"For openers, I don't like mustaches!"

I am plagued by bursitis. When I have it I am in misery. When I get well I am so delighted that I try to forget about it and do nothing about it. The attacks come out of the clear blue sky. I wonder how they can be avoided.

Mr. T. J., Ind.
Dear Mr. J.: You fall into the same trap that many patients do. When an illness ends many people are so happy that they want to obliterate it from their memory. They fail to investigate the basic cause and consequently, have recurrences of their illness.

Bursitis is an inflammation of a bursa, or small sac. This is found in many of the joints of the body. The bursa is filled with a lubricating fluid that helps the normal motion and rotation of the bones of the body.

When a bursa becomes inflamed, irritated or injured, it begins to swell, and thus limits the motion of the joint as a protective mechanism.

Many people have chronic bursitis and can tolerate a moderate amount of discomfort. But often this is activated and becomes painful.

The bursa in the shoulder is the most common site. The knee and the elbow are also frequently affected by bursitis.

Calcium may develop within the bursa and affect the motion of the joint. Some people with a gouty ten-

Ohio Malpractice Problems Growing

CLEVELAND (AP) — Doctors say Ohio's malpractice insurance premiums are continuing to rise despite legislation aimed at keeping insurance costs in line. They say the result may be that slowdowns such as are being reported in California hospitals will spread to this state.

Leaders of the Ohio State Medical Association (OSMA) said that the state legislation has failed to attract insurance companies back into malpractice underwriting and physicians are continuing to complain about expensive premiums.

Dr. Robert J. White, president of the Ohio State Neurological Society, said society members were "very, very concerned that insurance costs continue to escalate."

"We might see here what is going on in California and New York," Dr. White said.

"Ohio medicine supported the concept of the new law, but before that we said unless heavily amended it would not provide a way to level off or reduce cost of insurance to neurosurgeons."

Dr. Robert N. Smith of Toledo, former president of the OSMA, said in answer to a query that "high risk physicians are going to get 15 to 20 per cent premium increases in 1976 over and above what happened to them last year."

Dr. Smith said his own group was skeptical of joining the state plan because of uncertainty over various aspects of the plan. He said doctors are not sure how much they will have to pay for continued coverage against suits if they retire, leave the state to practice elsewhere or change to coverage by a private insurance company if and when such insurance becomes available.

He said his group was hit with a $260,000 hike in malpractice insurance premiums in 1975, boosting the total to $310,000.

"We have been informed our premium will go up between 15 and 20 per cent," he said.

A spokesman for the Cleveland Academy of Medicine said few members have insured themselves. But he said doctors' complaints have tapered off since last summer, when insurance companies either dropped the malpractice insurance or boosted premiums sharply.

Meanwhile, about 100 Cleveland doctors in high-risk specialties such as surgery and anesthesiology have formed a Physicians' Insuring

Calcium and uric acid studies of the blood may lead to one of the reasons for your repeated attacks of bursitis. Unsuspected injuries while at work, too strenuous exercise, lifting heavy weights, exposure to drafts and infection elsewhere in the body may be precipitating factors in these repeated attacks.

My daughter wears contact lenses. Now she wants to have different color lenses for different occasions. We think this could be harmful. How do you feel about this?

Mrs. R. M., Maine
Dear Mrs. M.: I doubt that this type of overindulgence can be as harmful to her eyes as it would be to your pocketbook.

Contact lenses are an excellent substitute for eyeglasses. And they are valuable for people who have had certain types of surgery. The advantages of these lenses in sports, too, is enormous.

I do not believe that changes of lenses merely to change the color of the eyes is a sensible utilization of the basic reason for the creation of these lenses.

Mechanics Form Group On Ethics

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Auto mechanics in southwestern Ohio have agreed to a broad code of ethics governing their work performance.

In Montgomery County, most of the 750-plus repair shops have agreed to go along with code of ethics developed by volunteers from the local auto repair business.

And soon, an Automotive Repair Review Board will be ready to hear complaints by auto owners against repair businesses.

"The auto repair industry will be managing their own problems, because the objective of this action is to give them a chance to clean their own house," said James Gardner, Dayton consumer affairs director.

"And, they are entitled to this chance," he added. "It's going to clear up a lot of mistrust, and we don't know of any other place in the country where government and industry are working together to clean up this particular business."

Auto repair problems have remained near the top of the list of consumer complaints made at Gardner's office. "We didn't establish ordinances to control the auto repair problems, for any such policing action would stop at the city limits," he said.

"This way, the auto repair industry can handle its own problems all over the country. They will be independent of us, but we want to make like the bear and be there when needed," Gardner said.

The review board already has three auto repairmen, an attorney and a member of the Dayton consumers affairs office as members.

"As soon as we have two persons from the general public to volunteer for the board, we will be ready to review complaints and disputes," said Grace Keyser, vice president and co-owner, along with her husband Clark, of Ludlow Automotive.

Sexism In Kindergarten

For generations, people have thought it typical for small boys to get dirty, chase frogs, put thumbtacks on chair seats and snitch turkey while somebody was saying the blessing.

Now we know, because social psychologists say so, that this is a sexist stereotype. Stamp it out. Small children are "conditioned" to behave stereotypically, they say, and there is really no basic difference between the sexes except that boys' motor muscles develop later than girls' and they can't get pregnant.

It didn't matter whether the youngsters were rich or poor, or whether their mothers had careers or not. They all felt much the same.

Efforts to change these anti-feminist opinions in young minds did not work as well as the teachers hoped. "To their surprise, fifth-grade boys with working mothers - and ninth-grade boys with working and nonworking mothers - became notably more stereotyped in their views of women, and more rigid about 'woman's place' after the six-week program than they had been at the beginning." (Showing, perhaps, that boys don't like to be told what to think?) It mattered little whether their mothers worked as waitresses or as doctors, the boys of employed moms went along with peer-group thinking rather than the example at home - seeing women as professionally less capable than men.

One 10-year-old, for example, was given a picture of a female mechanic working on a car, and told to create a story about it. "... She fixes the car good and she's been asking for a raise for a long time," he wrote.

Another conclusion, which may or may not be drawn depending on one's views on sexism, is that male resistance to the sexual equality movement may be deeper - and begin younger - than the social psychologists ever imagined.

Watchman Has Unique Position

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP) — When the six-ton bronze bell finished tolling midnight, Willy Annen stepped out of his wooden cubicle in the wind-swept belfry of Lausanne's ancient cathedral.

"C'est le guet — this is the watchman," he shouted into the wintry darkness. "It struck twelve." Below, a handful of people, headed home from a bottle of wine in an old town bistro, stopped to listen.

Calling the hours from 10 p.m. to 6 a.m. from the gothic tower is the same every night for Annen, whose job may be unique in Europe today. It has been the same for scores of his predecessors performing the lofty function for at least six centuries.

Annen's "home" is a tiny, wood-paneled cell 158 steps up from street level right between the two huge bells and below five others.

"I am living amid 25 tons of bells but I manage to sleep well," the burly 54-year-old bachelor says.

There is a bed, a bench, a radio, a telephone and an alarm clock. There are a few picture postcards tacked to the wall and a calendar advertising the brewery for which he works at daytime as a truck driver. The alarm wakes him up five minutes before the hour.

When he calls a particular hour, Annen resets the alarm for an hour later. He claims he immediately falls fast asleep again for 50 minutes. "It takes me a maximum of three minutes to doze off," he explains. "I have found my own rhythm of sleeping and I don't mind."

No one calls the hours during the day until Annen comes to work at 10 p.m. A purist, Annen sends his deep-throated bass voice through cone-shaped hands rather than through the metal megaphone used by previous watchmen. Depending on wind conditions, he can be heard up to almost a mile away.

Only once, last summer, was he forced to skip a night after a rainstorm of near hurricane force flooded his cubicle. But as soon as the roof leak was repaired he was back, joined by a couple of friends to celebrate the event with a few glasses of wine.

Annen took over as watchman 15 years ago, drawing the equivalent of $4.50 a night. At one time, an economy minded city official proposed dropping the post as the watchman's principal task — spotting fires — had long ago been outmoded.

This stirred a successful protest from tradition-minded residents. City hall yielded and even named Annen a municipal employee with fringe benefits and pension rights. He now draws the equivalent of $370 a year from the city in addition to his pay for his daytime work.

Annen says he has never felt bored in his cell. Once he turned down an offer to install a TV set. "There is no shortage of exciting sights here," he said. If the weather is clear, he has a panoramic view of Lake Geneva and the towering Savoy Alps up to about 65 miles away.

Flag Back On Police Uniforms

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Columbus police will wear American flags on their uniforms during the Bicentennial year — as they have for the past five years, Police Chief Earl Burden says.

Burden ordered last week that the patches be stripped by Feb. 1. But he rescinded that command Monday, saying, "We wish to retain the goodwill and support of the citizens of Columbus. It's obvious they wish us to continue wearing the flag."

The order caused "considerable controversy in the community," a statement from his office said.

A five-man uniform committee recommended removing the patches because they "were hard to keep on uniforms and were hard to line up...and detracted from the appearance of the uniform."

Burden said the committee based its recommendation "upon research which indicated that wearing of the flag in this fashion was never intended." There also are no available guidelines about how a flag should be worn, he said.

"It was their opinion, and I agree," said Burden, "that in the absence of proper guidelines, greater respect is shown by not wearing the flag."

He said, however, "there is considerable opinion to the contrary, both within the division of police and within the community."

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, Jan. 6, the sixth day of 1976. There are 360 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1412, the French national heroine, Joan of Arc, was born.

On this date— In 1540, King Henry the Eighth of England married his fourth wife, Anne of Cleves.

In 1759, George Washington was married to the widow Martha Dandridge Custis.

In 1838, Samuel F.B. Morse made the first public demonstration of his telegraph, at Morristown, N.J.

In 1912, New Mexico became the 47th state.

In 1919, former President Theodore Roosevelt died at his home at Oyster Bay, N.Y.

In 1950, Britain recognized the Communist government of China.

Ten years ago: President Lyndon Johnson sent Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz to New York to try to end a crippling transit strike.

Five years ago: Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird said the U.S. combat role in Vietnam would end before the middle of the summer.

One year ago: Portugal opened diplomatic ties with the People's Republic of China and said it considered Taiwan part of that Communist nation.

Today's birthdays: Entertainer Danny Thomas is 62 years old. Actress Loretta Young is 63.

Thought for today: "I know what I wish Ralph Nader would investigate next. Marriage. It's not safe at all." writer Jean Kerr.

Bicentennial footnote: Two-hundred years ago today, Revolutionary officials in South Carolina advised Georgia compatriots that British warships had left Charleston and might be bound for Savannah.

Mrs. Ralph F. (Anna M.) Hoffman, 618 Maplewood Ave., filed a petition with the election board as a candidate for the office of mayor of Circleville. It was the first time in local history a woman had run for the office.

County Commissioners approved as the official seal for the county, one drawn by Harry Montelius, Route 1. It was a combination of a seal originated by Robert Schumm, 360 E. Union St., for the local historical society. It was to be used on the crest of the transport vessel, USS Pickaway, with the Pacific Fleet.

David S. Carvens, 1051 Lynwood Ave., a retired navy commander, was named manager-host of the Pickaway Country Club.

The City of Circleville and Container Corporation of America mutually agreed to a separation of responsibility for discharge of wastes into the Scioto River here. The joint means of treating wastes from the plant had not proved to be successful.

Ellen Spencer Mussey, 1850-1936, born in Geneva, Ohio, became the first woman to be named dean of a law school.

"For openers, I don't like mustaches!"

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I am plagued by bursitis. When I have it I am in misery. When I get well I am so delighted that I try to forget about it and do nothing about it.

The attacks come out of the clear blue sky. I wonder how they can be avoided.

Mr. T. J., Ind.

Dear Mr. J.:

You fall into the same trap that many patients do. When an illness ends many people are so happy that they want to obliterate it from their memory. They fail to investigate the basic cause and consequently, have recurrences of their illness.

Bursitis is an inflammation of a bursa, or small sac. This is found in many of the joints of the body. The bursa is filled with a lubricating fluid that helps the normal motion and rotation of the bones of the body.

When a bursa becomes inflamed, irritated or injured, it begins to swell, and thus limits the motion of the joint as a protective mechanism.

Many people have chronic bursitis and can tolerate a moderate amount of discomfort. But often this is activated and becomes painful.

The bursa in the shoulder is the most common site. The knee and the elbow are also frequently affected by bursitis.

Calcium may develop within the bursa and affect the motion of the joint. Some people with a gouty tendency may develop uric acid stones within the bursa that produce pain.

It is now possible to inject special dyes within the bursa in order to establish a definite diagnosis.

Calcium and uric acid studies of the blood may lead to one of the reasons for your repeated attacks of bursitis. Unsuspected injuries while at work, too strenuous exercise, lifting heavy weights, exposure to drafts and infection elsewhere in the body may be precipitating factors in these repeated attacks.

My daughter wears contact lenses. Now she wants to have different color lenses for different occasions. We think this could be harmful. How do you feel about this?

Mrs. R. M., Maine

I doubt that this type of overindulgence can be as harmful to her eyes as it would be to your pocketbook.

Contact lenses are an excellent substitute for eyeglasses. And they are valuable for people who have had certain types of surgery. The advantages of these lenses in sports, too, is enormous.

I do not believe that changes of lenses merely to change the color of the eyes is a sensible utilization of the basic reason for the creation of these lenses.

Ohio Malpractice Problems Growing

CLEVELAND (AP) — Doctors say Ohio's malpractice insurance premiums are continuing to rise despite legislation aimed at keeping insurance costs in line. They say the result may be that slowdowns such as are being reported in California hospitals will spread to this state.

Leaders of the Ohio State Medical Association (OSMA) said that the state legislation has failed to attract insurance companies back into malpractice underwriting and physicians are continuing to complain about expensive premiums.

Dr. Robert J. White, president of the Ohio State Neurological Society, said society members were "very, very concerned that insurance costs continue to escalate."

"We might see here what is going on in California and New York," Dr. White said.

"Ohio medicine supported the concept of the new law, but before that we said unless heavily amended it would not provide a way to level off or reduce cost of insurance to neurosurgeons."

Dr. Robert N. Smith of Toledo, former president of the OSMA, said in answer to a query that "high risk physicians are going to get 15 to 20 per cent premium increases in 1976 over and above what happened to them last year."

Dr. Smith said his own group was skeptical of joining the state plan because of uncertainty over various aspects of the plan. He said doctors are not sure how much they will have to pay for continued coverage against suits if they retire, leave the state to practice elsewhere or change to coverage by a private insurance company if and when such insurance becomes available.

He said his group was hit with a $260,000 hike in malpractice insurance premiums in 1975, boosting the total to $310,000.

"We have been informed our premium will go up between 15 and 20 per cent," he said.

A spokesman for the Cleveland Academy of Medicine said few members have insured themselves. But he said doctors' complaints have tapered off since last summer, when insurance companies either dropped the malpractice insurance or boosted premiums sharply.

Meanwhile, about 100 Cleveland doctors in high-risk specialties such as surgery and anesthesiology have formed a Physicians' Insuring

Exchange. The head of the exchange, Dr. Herbert Bell, said the group will be limited to 250 doctors.

Mechanics Form Group On Ethics

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Auto mechanics in southwestern Ohio have agreed to a broad code of ethics governing their work performance.

In Montgomery County, most of the 750-plus repair shops have agreed to go along with code of ethics developed by volunteers from the local auto repair business.

And soon, an Automotive Repair Review Board will be ready to hear complaints by auto owners against repair businesses.

"The auto repair industry will be managing their own problems, because the objective of this action is to give them a chance to clean their own house," said James Gardner, Dayton consumer affairs director.

"And, they are entitled to this chance," he added. "It's going to clear up a lot of mistrust, and we don't know of any other place in the country where government and industry are working together to clean up this particular business."

Auto repair problems have remained near the top of the list of consumer complaints made at Gardner's office. "We didn't establish ordinances to control the auto repair problems, for any such policing action would stop at the city limits," he said.

"This way, the auto repair industry can handle its own problems all over the country. They will be independent of us, but we want to make like the bear and be there when needed," Gardner said.

The review board already has three auto repairmen, an attorney and a member of the Dayton consumers affairs office as members.

"As soon as we have two persons from the general public to volunteer for the board, we will be ready to review complaints and disputes," said Grace Keyser, vice president and co-owner, along with her husband Clark, of Ludlow Automotive.

North Court Barbers Offer Latest In Hair Styles

LADIES, How about asking Joe to cut your hair in this style?

How would you like your hair cut? Well, the North Court Barber Shop, can offer both men and women the latest techniques in hair cutting and styling. Whether it be the curly permanent of afro style for men or the shag-style cut for women, Joe Julian and his assistants can do them all.

Men and women both want and need healthy hair and so what better place can they go to than a barbershop that offers hair cuts for both sexes. And Joe Julian, owner of the North Court Shop will affirm that.

Joe, who has worked at the shop for seven years, purchased the business in May of this year. The shop offers various services which includes men's regular and razor haircuts, children's haircuts and ladies haircuts.

Other services for men includes styling, coloring, straightening, conditioning, and hairpieces.

Ladies cutting and styling, by Joe, are by appointment only. Julian, a 1960 graduate of Jacksonville, Florida Barber College is the only one in the shop who does women's haircuts.

Julian believes that his shop offers the most up-to-date hairstyling and techniques for the man who cares about his hair.

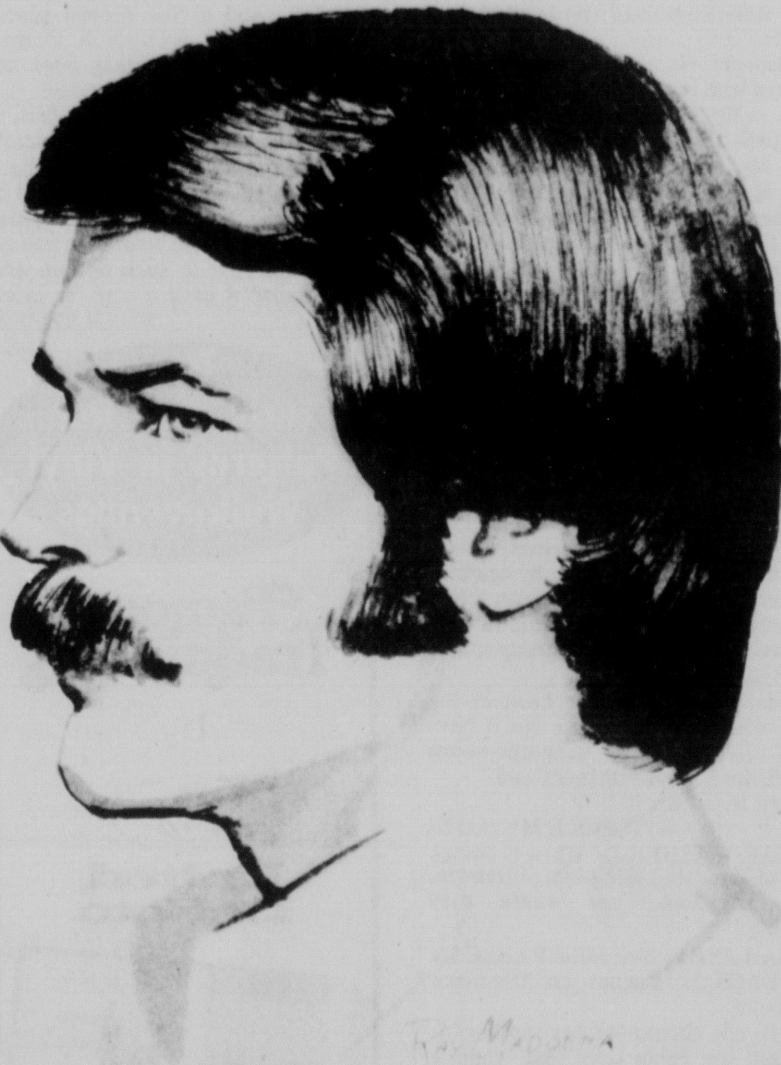

Barbers employed at the shop also include, Bob Hedges, former owner of the business; Bob Kuhlwein, Frank Stevens, and Julian. The three are graduates of the Columbus Barber College, former Andrews Barber College.

North Court Shop offers a variety of retail hair care supplies, including R-K brand hair-care products and brand name hair conditioners, and shampoos.

The shop is open 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday and 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday.

Annual New Year's Eve Party Held By Senior Citizens

Members of Pickaway Senior Center held their third annual New Year's Eve party at the Lutheran Parish House, from 9 to midnight.

The earlier part of the evening was spent playing cards and other games using small wrapped gifts for prizes. At 11:30 p.m. refreshments were served from a buffet table with a pinecone and candle centerpiece.

At the stroke of midnight, everyone sang "Auld Lang Syne" and Twyla Lorentz read two poems, "My New Calendar" and "My New Year's Resolutions."

Miss Lydia Wilson,
Ernest Lee Legg
Wed In Ashville

Marriage vows were exchanged Dec. 20 by Miss Lydia Irene Wilson and Mr. Ernest Lee Legg in First English Lutheran Church of Ashville.

The Rev. Robert Michelfelder officiated the double ring ceremony 1:30 p.m. in the presence of members of the immediate families.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Wilson, Ashville and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Legg, Belle Vernon, Pa. Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Steve Baker of Columbus.

A dinner at Pickaway Arms followed the ceremony.

The new Mrs. Legg is a graduate of Teays Valley High School and Grant Hospital School of Nursing in the class of 1975.

Mr. Legg is a 1974 graduate of Carnegie Mellon University, Pittsburgh, Pa., and a member of Phi Kappa Theta Fraternity. He is an electrical engineer in Research and Development, Xerox Corp., Rochester, N.Y.

Following a honeymoon at Seven Springs Ski Resort, Champion, Pa., the couple will reside at 67 Alpine Knoll, Fairport, N.Y.

Hensel-Francis Engagement Told

JANICE ANN HENSEL

Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Hensel, Route 2, Amanda, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Janice Ann, to Rodney Lee Francis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren E. Francis, Route 2, Amanda.

The bride elect will graduate from Amanda-Clearcreek High School with the Class of 1976.

Her fiancé, a 1973 graduate of Amanda-Clearcreek High School, is currently attending Ohio State University.

The couple has not yet selected a wedding date.

Program Planned For Monday Club

Mrs. James Reichelderfer will be reporter for the Jan. 12, meeting of Monday Club beginning 8 p.m. in the meeting room of Pickaway County Historical Society.

Readers for the program titled "Act IV" will be Mrs. Tom Renick, chairman, Mrs. H. N. Stevenson, Mrs. Marion Sines and Mrs. Collis Young.

Solaqua Garden Club To Meet Friday

Solaqua Garden Club will meet 1:30 p.m. Friday at Ashville Coffee Shop. Guest speaker will be Noel Rader who will talk about growing, pruning and planting shrubs.

The next group meeting will be held January 8 at the Village United Methodist Church in Ashville, to which everyone is invited.

The bus trip on Jan. 15 to Washington C. H. is filled, but names for the reserve list are still being taken.

There will also be a busload to see the Ice Capades at the Ohio State Fairgrounds Coliseum the afternoon of Jan. 25. The bus will leave the Center at 12:15 p.m. and will stop at a restaurant for dinner enroute home. For more information or to make a reservation, call the Center at 474-4916. The cost of the bus and show should be paid at the time reservation is made. Dinner will be at each person's expense.

Ladies Classes Are Scheduled At Local YMCA

Pickaway County Family YMCA is offering activities with fun for women during the winter months.

There will be exercise classes for the beginner with mild forms of rhythmic toning and tightening for the body. Continued will be regular classes of exercise for those who want a more vigorous workout.

For the ladies who need to take off pounds as well as inches the slim living diet class will be continued. For those who prefer an art form along with their exercise there will be belly dancing classes and fun ballet, both of these give workouts to the stomach, hip and thigh areas.

A tap dancing course is offered to those who like a rhythmic form of general exercise. There still will be yoga classes for those who want to exercise as well as learn to relax.

Also continued will be folk and ballroom dancing classes along with gym activities during the week.

For further information call 474-8621. All classes will begin the week of Jan. 12.

Couple Visits Family, Friends During Holidays

Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. (Vivian) Kuhlwein, Route 1, Ashville visited their children and grandchildren during the Christmas holidays and later visited friends.

The Sunday before Christmas they drove to Licking Valley High School to hear a concert where their eldest grandson, Leland Kuhlwein, 14, plays the sousaphone. From there they went to Bethel Lutheran Church at Grove City to attend the Children's Christmas service where their youngest grandchild, Kelly Kuhlwein, 5, took part.

On Christmas Eve they visited a sister, Mildred, and her husband Bill Roller who were leaving for their winter home in St. Petersburg, Fla. The couple then went to Hanover to visit their son Bill, and family, where they exchanged gifts and attended the Christmas Eve service together. Two of their grandsons participated in the bell choir. On Christmas Day they all talked by telephone with their son Bob and his wife in Rockford, a suburb of Baltimore, Md.

On Dec., 30, after returning home, a brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. Atlee Sawyer of Tulsa, Okla., stopped for a few days after visiting their daughter and family of Brookfield, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. Kuhlwein spent New Year's Eve with relatives and friends.

More On Back-Seat Mother-In-Laws

DEAR ABBY: I liked your answer to the indignant young wife whose husband agreed with his mother that out of respect to her, she should sit in the front seat of the car and his wife should sit in the back.

(You said, "When push comes to shove, you should defer to your mother-in-law, not because your husband wants you to, but because she is your elder.")

I am a mother-in-law, and I always sit in front with my son because my daughter-in-law insists upon it! She says that I see little enough of him since his marriage, and she wants to share him with me as much as possible.

I can't tell you how much I appreciate her thoughtfulness. I am grateful that we have such a warm and loving relationship. Much of it is due to her unselfish and understanding nature.

Respect? No! All it takes is two women who really love the same man.

SITTING IN FRONT IN L.A.

DEAR SITTING: Thanks. I needed that. My mail has been running 50 to one against my advice to let the mother-in-law sit in front beside her son. Read on for a few typical letters lambasting me:

DEAR ABBY: The controversy about whether a man's mother or his wife should sit beside him while he's driving the car brings to mind this true story:

A notoriously possessive mother always insisted on sitting in front with her son, so his wife had to sit in the back.

On one of these rides, the car in which the three of them were riding was struck from the right by another car, and the mother-in-law was killed instantly. The husband and wife miraculously survived with only minor injuries.

Had the mother-in-law been in the back where she belonged, she'd have been alive, and her daughter-in-law would have been killed instead.

Care to comment?

WITHHOLD MY NAME

DEAR WITHHOLD: When it comes time to enter they Kingdom of Heaven, I think people are where they "belong."

DEAR ABBY: Tell MISERABLE IN THE BACK that she needs a little more backbone.

First, she should tell her mother-in-law that the Bible says that when a man marries he should "leave his father and mother and cleave unto his wife."

And if that doesn't sink in, the wife should put both her mother-in-law and her husband in the back seat. Then Sonny can climb onto Mamma's lap to be cuddled and rocked again.

These Mamma's boys make lousy husbands.

GOT RID OF ONE

DEAR ABBY: You certainly blew it with your advice to MISERABLE IN THE BACK.

When a man marries, his mother automatically takes a back seat to his wife, both figuratively and literally—unless she is either aged or crippled. In this case, the mother-in-law was only 47, and I assume she was able-bodied.

You say that the daughter-in-law should defer to her mother-in-law out of "respect" for her elders. In the first place, a 47-year-old woman is not "elderly". And in the second place, respect must be earned; it doesn't come with age. Living long does not qualify a person to be respected.

If I were that daughter-in-law, I would be suspicious of my husband's priorities and investigate them where they count. He sounds like the kind of husband who would make his mother beneficiary to his life insurance policy.

I was married to such a man and didn't realize it until it was too late.

Annual New Year's Eve Party Held By Senior Citizens

Members of Pickaway Senior Center held their third annual New Year's Eve party at the Lutheran Parish House, from 9 to midnight.

The earlier part of the evening was spent playing cards and other games using small wrapped gifts for prizes. At 11:30 p.m. refreshments were served from a buffet table with a pinecone and candle centerpiece.

At the stroke of midnight, everyone sang "Auld Lang Syne" and Twyla Lorentz read two poems, "My New Calendar" and "My New Year's Resolutions."

Miss Lydia Wilson,
Ernest Lee Legg
Wed In Ashville

Marriage vows were exchanged Dec. 20 by Miss Lydia Irene Wilson and Mr. Ernest Lee Legg in First English Lutheran Church of Ashville.

The Rev. Robert Michelfelder officiated the double ring ceremony 1:30 p.m. in the presence of members of the immediate families.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Wilson, Ashville and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Legg, Belle Vernon, Pa. Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Steve Baker of Columbus.

A dinner at Pickaway Arms followed the ceremony.

The new Mrs. Legg is a graduate of Teays Valley High School and Grant Hospital School of Nursing in the class of 1975.

Mr. Legg is a 1974 graduate of Carnegie Mellon University, Pittsburgh, Pa., and a member of Phi Kappa Theta Fraternity. He is an electrical engineer in Research and Development, Xerox Corp., Rochester, N.Y.

Following a honeymoon at Seven Springs Ski Resort, Champion, Pa., the couple will reside at 67 Alpine Knoll, Fairport, N.Y.

Hensel-Francis Engagement Told

JANICE ANN HENSEL

Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Hensel, Route 2, Amanda, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Janice Ann, to Rodney Lee Francis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren E. Francis, Route 2, Amanda.

The bride elect will graduate from Amanda-Clearcreek High School with the Class of 1976.

Her fiancé, a 1973 graduate of Amanda-Clearcreek High School, is currently attending Ohio State University.

The couple has not yet selected a wedding date.

Program Planned For Monday Club

Mrs. James Reichelderfer will be reporter for the Jan. 12, meeting of Monday Club beginning 8 p.m. in the meeting room of Pickaway County Historical Society.

Readers for the program titled "Act IV" will be Mrs. Tom Renick, chairman, Mrs. H. N. Stevenson, Mrs. Marion Sines and Mrs. Collis Young.

Solaqua Garden Club To Meet Friday

Solaqua Garden Club will meet 1:30 p.m. Friday at Ashville Coffee Shop. Guest speaker will be Noel Rader who will talk about growing, pruning and planting shrubs.

The next group meeting will be held January 8 at the Village United Methodist Church in Ashville, to which everyone is invited.

The bus trip on Jan. 15 to Washington C. H. is filled, but names for the reserve list are still being taken.

There will also be a busload to see the Ice Capades at the Ohio State Fairgrounds Coliseum the afternoon of Jan. 25. The bus will leave the Center at 12:15 p.m. and will stop at a restaurant for dinner enroute home. For more information or to make a reservation, call the Center at 474-4916. The cost of the bus and show should be paid at the time reservation is made. Dinner will be at each person's expense.

Ladies Classes Are Scheduled At Local YMCA

Pickaway County Family YMCA is offering activities with fun for women during the winter months.

There will be exercise classes for the beginner with mild forms of rhythmic toning and tightening for the body. Continued will be regular classes of exercise for those who want a more vigorous workout.

For the ladies who need to take off pounds as well as inches the slim living diet class will be continued. For those who prefer an art form along with their exercise there will be belly dancing classes and fun ballet, both of these give workouts to the stomach, hip and thigh areas.

A tap dancing course is offered to those who like a rhythmic form of general exercise. There still will be yoga classes for those who want to exercise as well as learn to relax.

Also continued will be folk and ballroom dancing classes along with gym activities during the week.

For further information call 474-8621. All classes will begin the week of Jan. 12.

Couple Visits Family, Friends During Holidays

Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. (Vivian) Kuhlwein, Route 1, Ashville visited their children and grandchildren during the Christmas holidays and later visited friends.

The Sunday before Christmas they drove to Licking Valley High School to hear a concert where their eldest grandson, Leland Kuhlwein, 14, plays the sousaphone. From there they went to Bethel Lutheran Church at Grove City to attend the Children's Christmas service where their youngest grandchild, Kelly Kuhlwein, 5, took part.

On Christmas Eve they visited a sister, Mildred, and her husband Bill Roller who were leaving for their winter home in St. Petersburg, Fla. The couple then went to Hanover to visit their son Bill, and family, where they exchanged gifts and attended the Christmas Eve service together. Two of their grandsons participated in the bell choir. On Christmas Day they all talked by telephone with their son Bob and his wife in Rockford, a suburb of Baltimore, Md.

On Dec. 30, after returning home, a brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. Atlee Sawyer of Tulsa, Okla., stopped for a few days after visiting their daughter and family of Brookfield, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. Kuhlwein spent New Year's Eve with relatives and friends.

Tigers Ranked 3rd In AP Poll

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Canton McKinley, Delphos St. John and Gnadenhutten Indian Valley South, all carrying perfect records, own the first week leads today in The Associated Press Ohio high school basketball ratings.

McKinley, with seven of its first eight players back from last year's state tournament semifinals, has mowed down 10 straight opponents. The Bulldogs were the runaway leader in Class AAA with 212 points to 161 for runnerup Barborton (9-0).

St. John, off to a 6-0 start, piled up a 40-point lead with 152 points in Class AA. Warsaw River View (8-0), the state tournament champion last spring, claimed second place.

Indian Valley South, like St. John a former state tourney titleholder, earned 114 points on the basis of an 8-0 record in Class A. Morral Ridgedale, with seven straight victories, was No. 2 among the small schools with 95 points.

The weekly polls are conducted by a statewide panel of sports writers and broadcasters and are based on regular season play only.

Middletown in Class AAA, Circleville in Class AA and Mansfield St. Peter's won last year's championships. Circleville is a contender again this season, placing third with 99 points on the strength of an 7-0 mark.

Middletown, which has dropped two of nine starts, landed in 12th in Class AAA. St. Peter's failed to earn a single vote in Class A.

Columbus Linden-McKinley, an also-ran in the Columbus City League last winter but the eventual state tournament ruler, has launched defense of its crown with a 7-1 record. The Panthers are No. 3 in Class AAA with 117 points.

Warren Western Reserve was fourth in Class AAA, Toledo Scott fifth, Canton Timken sixth, Columbus Eastmoor seventh, Kettering Alter eighth, Newark ninth and Bellefontaine 10th.

In Class AA, Dayton Roth (8-0), picking up many of Roosevelt's stars after that school closed last year, was fourth. Roth was followed by Willard, Magnolia Sandy Valley, Ironton, Columbus St. Charles, Lorain Catholic and Wellsville, in order.

In Class A, Minster ranked third, St. Henry fourth, New Riegel fifth, Sandusky St. Mary sixth, Maria Stein Marion seventh, then Mount Blanchard Riverdale, Arcanum and Sebring.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Here's how a statewide panel of sports writers and broadcasters rates Ohio high school basketball teams this week in the first poll of the season (10 points for first to 1 point for 10th):

CLASS AAA

1. Canton McKinley, 10-0, 212 points.
2. Barborton, 9-0, 161.
3. Columbus Linden-McKinley, 7-1, 117.

NFL All-Pro Football Team Selected By AP

NEW YORK (AP) — Record-shattering quarterback Fran Tarkenton of the Minnesota Vikings heads the National Football League All-Pro team selected by The Associated Press and announced today.

Joining Tarkenton in the All-Pro backfield are runners Chuck Foreman of Minnesota and O.J. Simpson of Buffalo. Speedy Cliff Branch of Oakland and Mel Gray of St. Louis are the wide receivers with Denver's Riley Odoms chosen at tight end.

Up front, the nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters chose Ron Yary of Minnesota and George Kunz of Baltimore at the tackles, Joe DeLamielleure of Buffalo and Larry Little of Miami at the guards and Jim Bakken of St. Louis was picked as the team's placekicker.

On defense, the 78 AP voters selected Jack Youngblood of Los Angeles and Pittsburgh's L.C. Greenwood at ends with Alan Page of Minnesota and Houston's Curley Culp at tackles. Pittsburgh's Jack Ham and Washington's Chris Hanburger are the outside linebackers, flanking Philadelphia's Bill Bergey.

Mel Blount of Pittsburgh and Roger Wehrli of St. Louis are the cornerbacks with Minnesota's Paul Krause at free safety and Ken Houston of Washington at strong safety.

Tarkenton enjoyed a brilliant season, directing the Vikings to their seventh NFC Central division title in the last eight years. The veteran quarterback shattered three of Johnny Unitas' career passing records, setting new marks for attempts (5,225), completions (2,931) and touchdowns (291). The Minnesota quarterback led all NFC passers, completing 64.2 per cent of his attempts and hurling 25 touchdown passes.

His favorite target was Foreman, who led the NFL with 73 catches, the most ever for a running back. Foreman also led the conference with 22 touchdowns and rushed for a club record 1,070 yards.

Simpson rushed for a league-leading 1,817 yards and set a single season record with 23 touchdowns, one more than Gale Sayers had for the Chicago Bears in 1965.

Branch caught 51 passes for 893 yards and nine touchdowns for the AFC West champion Raiders. Gray grabbed 48 for 926 yards and 11 TDs for the Cardinals, champions of the NFC East. Odoms had 40 catches for 540 yards for Denver.

Bakken connected on 19 of 24 attempted field goals and scored 97 points.

On defense, Blount and Krause led their respective conferences in interceptions. Blount picked off 11 passes, returning them for 121 yards. Krause had 10 interceptions and 201 yards in returns.

Krause and Page anchored a Minnesota defense that led the league. Pittsburgh was second in the AFC on a defense constructed largely around Ham and Greenwood, whose play helped overcome the loss of Joe Greene, out for five games because of a pinched nerve in his neck.

Buffalo Sabres Top Montreal Canadiens

MONTREAL (AP) — The team which gave the Montreal Canadiens fits all during the 1974-75 National Hockey League season became the first club to defeat Montreal on its home ice this season.

Behind the three-goal effort of left wing Rick Martin, the Buffalo Sabres, fresh from a 12-6 victory over the Soviet Wings Sunday, skated to a 4-2 triumph over the Canadiens Monday night.

There were no other NHL games scheduled. No games were played in the World Hockey Association.

Denver Nuggets Beat Kentucky; Win 127-120

DENVER (AP) — "It's just indicative of what this team is doing," said Denver Nuggets' Coach Larry Brown.

Specifically, Brown was talking about Monday night's 127-120 American Basketball Association victory over Kentucky. Generally, his subject was the Nuggets' 1975-76 season.

The victory, in the only ABA game played, gave Denver a three-game lead over idle New York. The Nuggets have won 16 of their last 19 games and have a 26-8 record over-all, the best in professional basketball.

Big Ten Cagers In Heavy Action

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Top-ranked Indiana disposed of Northwestern in convincing style, but it was the Big Ten's defending scoring champion, Terry Furlow of Michigan State, who stole the show.

Furlow's 50 points Monday night set a school record and led the Spartans to a resounding 105-88 conference victory over previously once-beaten Iowa. The 50-point effort moved Furlow into third place on the all-time MSU scoring list with 1,286 career points and also erased the single-game scoring mark of 48 points for MSU's Jenison Field House.

Meanwhile, Indiana got 22 points from junior center Kent Benson and 16 more from forward Tom Abernathy to beat Northwestern 78-61 and record its second Big Ten victory in as many tries this season.

Elsewhere in the conference, 17th-ranked Michigan dealt 16th-ranked Minnesota its second straight loss 95-72 at Ann Arbor, and Wisconsin squeezed past Ohio State 82-81 in overtime at Madison. Purdue defeated Butler 81-57 in a nonconference game. Illinois was idle.

Michigan State, 1-1 in the Big Ten, was never in trouble with the Hawkeyes who fell behind 52-37 at halftime and could not manage to move any closer than nine points to the Spartans in the second half. Scott Thompson pumped in 30 points for Iowa, which dropped to 1-1 in the conference.

At Indiana, the Hoosiers built an early 20-17 lead and broke it open behind the shooting of Abernathy in the final eight minutes of the first half. Leading 40-27 at the half, the defending Big Ten champs then outscored Northwestern 14-2 at the outset of the second period to send the Wildcats, led by Billy McKinney's 14 markers, to defeat for the second time in as many conference tries.

In a battle of ranked squads, Michigan, now 2-0 in the conference, sent Minnesota down to defeat for the second time after the Gophers had racked up eight straight victories in nonconference play.

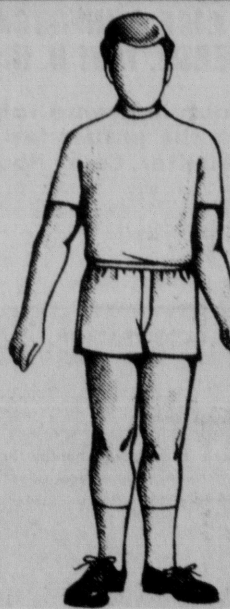

Guard Ricky Green fired in 32 points and freshman Phil Hubbard added 20 to lead the Wolverines, who now have won 30 of their last 31 games at home. The loss was Minnesota's 11th straight at Ann Arbor.

In the night's only thriller, Wisconsin rallied behind Tim Paterick's six points in the overtime session to beat Ohio State. The win raised Wisconsin to 2-0 in Big Ten play, while the Buckeyes dropped 0-2.

Dale Koehler scored 26 points and led the Badgers overall, but it was Paterick's heroics, along with two free throws by Brian Colbert with 13 seconds left, which sealed the victory for the Badgers.

Butler proved to be no match for Purdue which posted a 36-22 halftime lead and then coasted to victory. Sophomore Walter Jordan scored 24 points and grabbed 13 rebounds to lead the Boilermakers.

Tigers Ranked 3rd In AP Poll

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Canton McKinley, Delphos St. John and Gnadenhutten Indian Valley South, all carrying perfect records, own the first week leads today in The Associated Press Ohio high school basketball ratings.

McKinley, with seven of its first eight players back from last year's state tournament semifinals, has moved down 10 straight opponents. The Bulldogs were the runaway leader in Class AAA with 212 points to 161 for runnerup Barborton (9-0).

St. John, off to a 6-0 start, piled up a 40-point lead with 152 points in Class AA. Warsaw River View (8-0), the state tournament champion last spring, claimed second place.

Indian Valley South, like St. John a former state tourney titleholder, earned 114 points on the basis of an 8-0 record in Class A. Morral Ridgedale, with seven straight victories, was No. 2 among the small schools with 95 points.

The weekly polls are conducted by a statewide panel of sports writers and broadcasters and are based on regular season play only.

Middletown in Class AAA, Circleville in Class AA and Mansfield St. Peter's won last year's championships. Circleville is a contender again this season, placing third with 99 points on the strength of a 7-0 mark.

Middletown, which has dropped two of nine starts, landed in 12th in Class AAA. St. Peter's failed to earn a single vote in Class A.

Columbus Linden-McKinley, an also-ran in the Columbus City League last winter but the eventual state tournament ruler, has launched defense of its crown with a 7-1 record. The Panthers are No. 3 in Class AAA with 117 points.

Warren Western Reserve was fifth in Class AAA, Toledo Scott fourth, Canton Timken sixth, Columbus Eastmoor seventh, Kettering Alter eighth, Newark ninth and Bellefontaine 10th.

In Class AA, Dayton Roth (8-0), picking up many of Roosevelt's stars after that school closed last year, was fourth. Roth was followed by Willard, Magnolia Sandy Valley, Ironton, Columbus St. Charles, Lorain Catholic and Wellsville, in order.

In Class A, Minster ranked third, St. Henry fourth, New Riegel fifth, Sandusky sixth, Maria Stein seventh, then Mount Blanchard Riverdale, Arcanum and Sebring.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Here's how a statewide panel of sports writers and broadcasters rates Ohio high school basketball teams this week in the first poll of the season (10 points for first to 1 point for 10th):

NFL All-Pro Football Team Selected By AP

NEW YORK (AP) — Record-shattering quarterback Fran Tarkenton of the Minnesota Vikings heads the National Football League All-Pro team selected by The Associated Press and announced today.

Joining Tarkenton in the All-Pro backfield are runners Chuck Foreman of Minnesota and O.J. Simpson of Oakland. Speedy Cliff Branch of Buffalo and Mel Gray of St. Louis are the wide receivers with Denver's Riley Odums chosen at tight end.

Up front, the nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters chose Ron Yary of Minnesota and George Kunz of Baltimore at the tackles, Joe DeLamielleure of Buffalo and Larry Little of Miami at the guards and Jim Langer of Miami at center. Jim Bakken of St. Louis was picked as the team's placekicker.

On defense, the 78 AP voters selected Jack Youngblood of Los Angeles and Pittsburgh's L.C. Greenwood at ends with Alan Page of Minnesota and Houston's Curley Culp at tackles. Pittsburgh's Jack Ham and Washington's Chris Hanburger are the outside linebackers, flanking Philadelphia's Bill Bergey.

Mel Blount of Pittsburgh and Roger Wehrli of St. Louis are the cornerbacks with Minnesota's Paul Krause at free safety and Ken Houston of Washington at strong safety.

Tarkenton enjoyed a brilliant season, directing the Vikings to their seventh NFC Central division title in the last eight years. The veteran quarterback shattered three of Johnny Unitas' career passing records, setting new marks for attempts (5,225), completions (2,931) and touchdowns (291). The Minnesota quarterback led all NFC passers, completing 64.2 percent of his attempts and hurling 25 touchdown passes.

His favorite target was Foreman, who led the NFL with 73 catches, the most ever for a running back. Foreman also led the conference with 22 touchdowns and rushed for a club record 1,070 yards.

Simpson rushed for a league-leading 1,817 yards and set a single season record with 23 touchdowns, one more than Gale Sayers had for the Chicago Bears in 1965.

Branch caught 51 passes for 893 yards and nine touchdowns for the AFC West champion Raiders. Gray finished at 48 for 926 yards and 11 TDs for the Cardinals, champions of the NFC East. Odums had 40 catches for 540 yards for Denver.

Bakken connected on 19 of 24 attempted field goals and scored 97 points.

On defense, Blount and Krause led their respective conferences in interceptions. Blount picked off 11 passes, returning them for 121 yards. Krause had 10 interceptions and 201 yards in returns.

Krause and Page anchored a Minnesota defense that led the league. Pittsburgh was second in the AFC on a defense constructed largely around Ham and Greenwood, whose play helped overcome the loss of Joe Greene, out for five games because of a pinched nerve in his neck.

Buffalo Sabres Top Montreal Canadiens

MONTREAL (AP) — The team which gave the Montreal Canadiens fits all during the 1974-75 National Hockey League season became the first club to defeat Montreal on its home ice this season.

Behind the three-goal effort of left wing Rick Martin, the Buffalo Sabres, fresh from a 12-6 victory over the Soviet Wings Sunday, skated to a 4-2 triumph over the Canadiens Monday night.

There were no other NHL games scheduled. No games were played in the World Hockey Association.

Denver Nuggets Beat Kentucky; Win 127-120

DENVER (AP) — "It's just indicative of what this team is doing," said Denver Nuggets' Coach Larry Brown.

Specifically, Brown was talking about Monday night's 127-120 American Basketball Association victory over Kentucky. Generally, his subject was the Nuggets' 1975-76 season.

The victory, in the only ABA game played, gave Denver a three-game lead over idle New York. The Nuggets have won 16 of their last 19 games and have a 26-8 record over-all, the best in professional basketball.

Big Ten Cagers In Heavy Action

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Top-ranked Indiana pressed Northwestern in convincing style, but it was the Big Ten's defending scoring champion, Terry Furlow of Michigan State, who stole the show.

Furlow's 50 points Monday night set a school record and led the Spartans to a resounding 106-88 conference victory over previously once-beaten Iowa. The 50-point effort moved Furlow into third place on the all-time MSU scoring list with 1,286 career points and also erased the single-game scoring mark of 48 points for MSU's Jenison Field House.

Meanwhile, Indiana got 22 points from junior center Kent Benson and 16 more from forward Tom Abernathy to beat Northwestern 78-61 and record its second Big Ten victory in as many tries this season.

Elsewhere in the conference, 17th-ranked Michigan dealt 16th-ranked Minnesota its second straight loss 95-72 at Ann Arbor, and Wisconsin squeezed past Ohio State 82-81 in overtime at Madison. Purdue defeated Butler 81-57 in a nonconference game. Illinois was idle.

Michigan State, 1-1 in the Big Ten, was never in trouble with the Hawkeyes who fell behind 52-37 at halftime and could not manage to move any closer than nine points to the Spartans in the second half. Scott Thompson pumped in 30 points for Iowa, which dropped to 1-1 in the conference.

In Indiana, the Hoosiers built an early 20-17 lead and broke it open behind the shooting of Abernathy in the final eight minutes of the first half. Leading 40-27 at the half, the defending Big Ten champs then outscored Northwestern 14-2 at the outset of the second period to send the Wildcats, led by Billy McKinney's 14 markers, to defeat for the second time in as many conference tries.

In a battle of ranked squads, Michigan, now 2-0 in the conference, sent Minnesota down to defeat for the second time after the Gophers had racked up eight straight victories in nonconference play.

Guard Ricky Green fired in 32 points and freshman Phil Hubbard added 20 to lead the Wolverines, who now have won 30 of their last 31 games at home. The loss was Minnesota's 11th straight at Ann Arbor.

In the night's only thriller, Wisconsin rallied behind Tim Patrick's six points in the overtime session to beat Ohio State. The win raised Wisconsin to 2-0 in Big Ten play, while the Buckeyes dropped 0-2.

Dale Koehler scored 26 points and led the Badgers overall, but it was Patrick's heroics, along with two free throws by Brian Colbert with 13 seconds left, which sealed the victory for the Badgers.

Butler proved to be no match for Purdue which posted a 36-22 halftime lead and then coasted to victory. Sophomore Walter Jordan scored 24 points and grabbed 13 rebounds to lead the Boilermakers.

Indiana Faces Tough Michigan

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

Is the end in sight for unbeaten, top-ranked Indiana?

The Hoosiers went all the way to the finals of the NCAA Midwest Regionals before losing last season but at least one knowledgeable observer, Northwestern Coach Tex Winter, thinks they may have problems before long ... like this weekend.

"Indiana's going to have a lot of trouble against a quick opponent like Michigan, especially in front of their

Hold Down ADC Errors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Welfare Director Raymond F. McKenna said Monday the state is working with counties to hold down errors in determining eligibility for the state Aid for Dependent Children welfare program.

A special corrective action project, he said, is under way in Cuyahoga County to develop better methods of error control.

"Payments to ineligibles reduce funds available to meet requirements of the truly needy," McKenna said.

The most recent statewide sampling indicates that errors are running at a rate of 10 per cent. That compares with 11 per cent last year, he said.

Ohio had 50,000 more recipients on its ADC program last month than in December 1974, McKenna said.

Preliminary figures show Ohio had slightly more than 577,000 recipients in December 1975, compared with 527,000 the previous December. The ADC rolls contained 571,000 in November and 562,000 in October.

Snow was expected to spread across most of Ohio by early Wednesday as a cold front passes through the state.

The precipitation was forecast to begin in the west central counties during the night and predawn hours.

Wednesday's highs are expected to be in the 30s ahead of the cold front moving into Ohio from the northwest.

crowd in Ann Arbor," Winter said Monday night.

Indiana visits Michigan on Saturday. Monday night, though, the Hoosiers had only 12 minutes of trouble from Winter's Wildcats. Then they broke away from a 20-17 squeaker, built their lead to 40-27 at the intermission, outscored Northwestern 14-2 in the first six minutes of the second half and coasted to their 11th consecutive triumph 78-61.

Meanwhile, 19th-ranked Michigan tuned up for the Hoosiers' impending visit by trouncing No. 17 Minnesota 96-72. The only other members of The Associated Press Top Twenty to see action were sixth-ranked North Carolina and No. 10 Alabama. UNC flattened Yale 81-42 while 'Bama whipped Kentucky 76-63.

Tom Abernethy paced Indiana's surge late in the first half and finished with 16 points, six behind teammate Kent Benson. Meanwhile, the Hoosiers' tenacious defense held Northwestern's 21.5-point scorer Billy McKinney to 14, only one of them in the second half.

Junior college transfer Rickey Green paced Michigan's triumph over Minnesota with 32 points, spoiling the return to Ann Arbor of Minnesota Coach Jim Dutcher, a former Michigan assistant.

North Carolina, smarting over a drop from third to sixth in the ratings, reeled off 18 consecutive points for a 43-15 bulge while holding Yale

Wittenberg Faces Tough Grid Choice

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Should Wittenberg come up with another outstanding college football team next fall, the Tigers likely will be deprived of a chance at defending their national Division III title.

The reason is a scheduling conflict between the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the Ohio Conference, of which Wittenberg is a member.

The Ohio Conference championship game and first round NCAA Division III contests are all scheduled Saturday, Nov. 20, in 1976.

"Certainly we would prefer to be national champions over conference champions if we couldn't have both," said Coach Dave Maurer of Wittenberg, who has coached national titleholders two of the last three seasons.

"A national title means more notoriety, television exposure and coast-to-coast coverage. But we are members of the Ohio Conference and believe in it. We would never do anything to lessen our conference alliance," said Maurer.

Wittenberg won the 1975 Stag Bowl, the Division III national championship, by blanking Ithaca 28-0 in December.

Rambling Willie Top Harness Horse

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Rambling Willie, a $15,000 purchase three years ago who earned more than $264,000 in 1975, is the Ohio Harness Horse of the Year.

The 5-year-old pacing gelding, owned by Paul Seibert of Cincinnati and Mrs. Vivian Farrington of Richmond, was named on 118 of 283 ballots cast by members of the U.S. Trotting Association.

scoreless for almost 7½ minutes late in the first half. The Elis then managed only one field goal in the first nine minutes of the second half and fell behind 65-24.

Led by the sparkling defensive play of Leon Douglas and Anthony Murray, Alabama held Kentucky to 16 points in the second half after a 47-47 standoff at the intermission.

With Kentucky ahead 51-50, Alabama ran off 10 points in a row to seal the verdict. Douglas topped the Crimson Tide with 22 points while Kentucky's Jack Givens had 23.

Elsewhere, Michigan State's Terry Furlow set a school record with 50 points as the Spartans trounced Iowa 105-88 despite 30 points by the losers' Scott Thompson; Dale Koehler's 26 points and Tim Paterick's overtime heroics sparked Wisconsin from a 47-25 deficit to an 82-81 decision over Ohio State; Johnny Davis, with 27 points, was one of six players in double figures as Auburn downed Jacksonville 92-83.

Auburn shaded Mississippi 72-66 with Eddie Johnson scoring 16 points and feeding Gary Redding for 17; Louisiana State got four points in the final three seconds on free throws by Bob Miller and Kenny Higgs to edge Florida 85-79; reserve Mike Moore's two clutch free throws helped Vanderbilt defeat Mississippi State 71-66 in overtime.

Paul Brown Tells Of End To Coaching

CINCINNATI (AP) — "It wasn't easy" said Paul Brown of his decision to end a 41-year coaching career.

Brown said his decision was influenced by the Cincinnati Bengals' coming of age as a National Football League power.

"We have it all going now," said the 67-year-old Brown, who built an NFL dynasty at Cleveland 25 years ago.

Brown made the surprise announcement New Year's Day that he was turning over the head coaching reins to his longtime assistant Bill Johnson. Brown will continue in the post as general manager of the eight year-old club, which just concluded its best season with an 11-3 record.

"I've conditioned myself for some time and the time has come," said Brown. "I'll handle it," said the man who compiled a career winning percentage of .725 in the high school, college and professional ranks.

"It's no big deal," said Brown, referring to his quiet exit. "It was just the way I wanted to do it."

He said he began seriously considering retirement a year ago at his winter home in LaJolla, Calif.

"There was no hidden, dramatic thing behind my announcement to retire from coaching," he said, adding that his family "sort of hoped I'd go on."

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP) — Strike Me Out romped to a wire-to-wire victory, winning the feature race by two lengths Monday night in thoroughbred racing at Latonia.

The winner, owned by Earl Schmadel and ridden by Agapito Pablo Jr., went the 5½ furlongs in 1:05 1-5. The victory paid $23.80, $7.80 and $4.20. Dancing Comet finished second and returned $4.60 and $2.80. The show horse was Quen Boy at $3.20.

Hoosiers Strengthen Poll Lead

Indiana, despite a couple of narrow victories last week, strengthened its hold on the top spot, while two teams — Wake Forest and Washington — made their debuts in the Top Ten in The Associated Press major college basketball poll released today.

Indiana, 10-0, which struggled to a 76-69 victory over St. John's, N.Y., at Madison Square Garden, then beat Big Ten rival Ohio State 66-64, received 62 of 67 first-place votes cast and 1,330 points.

Wake Forest, 10-0, previously ignored by pollsters altogether, shot into national attention with a 95-83 victory over North Carolina and a 104-95 decision over North Carolina State in the Big Four Classic over the weekend. A nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters picked them No. 7 this week.

Meanwhile, Washington, 11-0, rocketed from 13th last week to eighth with victories over Northwestern and Texas Tech and a 106-75 romp over Seattle last week.

Dayton Tops Jacksonville; Wins 92-83

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Dayton spurted to a 43-30 first half lead and was never headed Monday as the Flyers notched a 92-83 college basketball victory over Jacksonville.

"The first half was critical" said Jacksonville Coach Don Beasley. "Dayton had control and made us play their game."

The Dolphins' mentor had special praise for freshman Fred Eckart, who came off the bench to contribute 10 first half points, and junior guard Johnnie Davis, who tossed in 14.

"The way we attacked their (first half) 1-3-1 zone press was the key," agreed Dayton coach Don Donohoe, who also had warm words for the performance of 6-foot-11 Davis, who finished with 27 points.

The victory was Dayton's sixth in 11 games. The loss dropped Jacksonville to 2-7.

Davis led Dayton with 27 points for the game. Other players scoring in double figures for the Flyers were Eckart, 16; Jim Paxson, 14; and Ervin Giddings, Leighton Moulton and Doug Harris, 10 each.

Kent Glover led all scorers with 28, while 7-foot sophomore Felton Young contributed 18.

In other Ohio games, Urbana rode to a 79-61 victory over Capital on the 30 points of junior forward Brian Boysel. Ricky Lee led Capital with 14.

Tiffin fell 75-67 to Mercy in Detroit. It was Central State 90, Rio Grande 69.

Chicago Bulls Edge Houston; Win 98-97

CHICAGO (AP) — "I don't know how much time I had but I didn't make a desperation shot," contends Jack Marin of the Chicago Bulls. "I was fading away from the basket but I had good control of the ball."

And his shot was right on target as Marin sank a 10-foot jumper as the final buzzer sounded to give the Bulls a 98-97 victory over the Houston Rockets in the only game played Monday night in the National Basketball Association.

Wake Forest wound up with 495 points and Washington got 484.

Maryland, 10-0, retained the second spot, receiving the other five top votes for 1,176 points on the strength of convincing victories over Seton Hall and Long Island and a 66-59 win over highly-regarded Princeton.

UCLA, 10-1, clobbered Notre Dame 86-70 Saturday for its 91st consecutive victory at Pauley Pavilion and moved from fourth to third, displacing North Carolina. The Bruins picked up 1,036 points.

Marquette, sixth last week, moved up to fourth after victories over Miami, Ohio, Wisconsin, and South Carolina. The 10-1 Warriors collected 803 points.

High-scoring Nevada-Las Vegas moved into the fifth spot after just barely making it into the Top Ten last week. Nevada-Las Vegas, 13-0, scored 100 points or more in victories last week over Houston, Michigan and Pan American to poll 603 points.

North Carolina, 7-1, dropped to sixth with 572 points.

Tennessee, 10-1 and 12th last week, moved up to ninth, the spot it held in the preseason poll, after victories over Pennsylvania, Tulane and Georgia. Alabama, 8-1 and a 61-59 loser to Princeton last week, dropped from eighth to 10th. Tennessee got 376 points to Alabama's 348.

Previously ninth-ranked N.C. State, 8-1, fell to 11th with 332 points after the loss to Wake Forest, and Rutgers, 10-0, jumped from 14th to 12th with 317 points.

Notre Dame, embarrassed by UCLA, fell all the way from fifth to 13th with 267 points after sustaining its third defeat against five victories. The Irish's other losses were to Indiana and Kentucky. St. John's, 10-1, inched from 15th to 14th with 258 points.

Cincinnati drew just 202 points and plummeted from seventh to 15th after losing 66-65 to Holy Cross, the Bearcats' second loss against nine victories.

Rounding out the Top 20 were Louisville, 7-2, 101 points, from 11th last week; Minnesota, 8-1, 48, from 16th; Southern Cal, 11-1, 44, unranked; Michigan, 7-2, 42, from 17th, and San Francisco, 10-3, 33, from 19th. Centenary, 18th last week, and Louisiana State, 20th, dropped from the Top 20.

The Top Twenty teams in The Associated Press college basketball poll with first-place votes in parentheses, season records through Sunday and total points. Points based on 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1:

Indiana Faces Tough Michigan

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

Is the end in sight for unbeaten, top-ranked Indiana?

The Hoosiers went all the way to the finals of the NCAA Midwest Regionals before losing last season but at least one knowledgeable observer, Northwestern Coach Tex Winter, thinks they may have problems before long ... like this weekend.

"Indiana's going to have a lot of trouble against a quick opponent like Michigan, especially in front of their

Hold Down ADC Errors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Welfare Director Raymond F. McKenna said Monday the state is working with counties to hold down errors in determining eligibility for the state Aid for Dependent Children welfare program.

A special corrective action project, he said, is under way in Cuyahoga County to develop better methods of error control.

"Payments to ineligible reduce funds available to meet requirements of the truly needy," McKenna said.

The most recent statewide sampling indicates that errors are running at a rate of 10 per cent. That compares with 11 per cent last year, he said.

Ohio had 50,000 more recipients on its ADC program last month than in December 1974, McKenna said.

Preliminary figures show Ohio had slightly more than 577,000 recipients in December 1975, compared with 527,000 the previous December. The ADC rolls contained 571,000 in November and 562,000 in October.

Snow was expected to spread across most of Ohio by early Wednesday as a cold front passes through the state.

The precipitation was forecast to begin in the west central counties during the night and predawn hours.

Wednesday's highs are expected to be in the 30s ahead of the cold front moving into Ohio from the northwest.

crowd in Ann Arbor," Winter said Monday night.

Indiana visits Michigan on Saturday. Monday night, though, the Hoosiers had only 12 minutes of trouble from Winter's Wildcats. Then they broke away from a 20-17 squeaker, built their lead to 40-27 at the intermission, outscored Northwestern 14-2 in the first six minutes of the second half and coasted to their 11th consecutive triumph 78-61.

Meanwhile, 19th-ranked Michigan tuned up for the Hoosiers' impending visit by trouncing No. 17 Minnesota 95-72. The only other members of The Associated Press Top Twenty to see action were sixth-ranked North Carolina and No. 10 Alabama. UNC flattened Yale 81-42 while 'Bama whipped Kentucky 76-63.

Tom Abernethy paced Indiana's surge late in the first half and finished with 16 points, six behind teammate Kent Benson. Meanwhile, the Hoosiers' tenacious defense held Northwestern's 21.5-point scorer Billy McKinney to 14, only one of them in the second half.

Junior college transfer Rickey Green paced Michigan's triumph over Minnesota with 32 points, spoiling the return to Ann Arbor of Minnesota Coach Jim Dutcher, a former Michigan assistant.

North Carolina, smarting over a drop from third to sixth in the ratings, reeled off 18 consecutive points for a 43-15 bulge while holding Yale

Wittenberg Faces Tough Grid Choice

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Should Wittenberg come up with another outstanding college football team next fall, the Tigers likely will be deprived of a chance at defending their national Division III title.

The reason is a scheduling conflict between the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the Ohio Conference, of which Wittenberg is a member.

The Ohio Conference championship game and first round NCAA Division III contests are all scheduled Saturday, Nov. 20, in 1976.

"Certainly we would prefer to be national champions over conference champions if we couldn't have both," said Coach Dave Maurer of Wittenberg, who has coached national titleholders two of the last three seasons.

"A national title means more notoriety, television exposure and coast-to-coast coverage. But we are members of the Ohio Conference and believe in it. We would never do anything to lessen our conference alliance," said Maurer.

Wittenberg won the 1975 Stagg Bowl, the Division III national championship, by blanking Ithaca 28-0 in December.

Rambling Willie Top Harness Horse

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Rambling Willie, a $15,000 purchase three years ago who earned more than $264,000 in 1975, is the Ohio Harness Horse of the Year.

The 5-year-old pacing gelding, owned by Paul Seibert of Cincinnati and Mrs. Vivian Farrington of Richmond, was named on 118 of 283 ballots cast by members of the U.S. Trotting Association.

scoreless for almost 7½ minutes late in the first half. The Elis then managed only one field goal in the first nine minutes of the second half and fell behind 65-24.

Led by the sparkling defensive play of Leon Douglas and Anthony Murray, Alabama held Kentucky to 16 points in the second half after a 47-47 standoff at the intermission.

With Kentucky ahead 51-50, Alabama ran off 10 points in a row to seal the verdict. Douglas topped the Crimson Tide with 22 points while Kentucky's Jack Givens had 23.

Elsewhere, Michigan State's Terry Furlow set a school record with 50 points as the Spartans trounced Iowa 105-88 despite 30 points by the losers' Scott Thompson; Dale Koehler's 26 points and Tim Paterick's overtime heroics sparked Wisconsin from a 47-25 deficit to an 82-81 decision over Ohio State; Johnny Davis, with 27 points, was one of six players in double figures as Dayton downed Jacksonville 92-83.

Auburn shaded Mississippi 72-66 with Eddie Johnson scoring 16 points and feeding Gary Redding for 17; Louisiana State got four points in the final three seconds on free throws by Bob Miller and Kenny Higgs to edge Florida 85-79; reserve Mike Moore's two clutch free throws helped Vanderbilt defeat Mississippi State 71-66 in overtime.

Paul Brown Tells Of End To Coaching

CINCINNATI (AP) — "It wasn't easy" said Paul Brown of his decision to end a 41-year coaching career.

Brown said his decision was influenced by the Cincinnati Bengals' coming of age as a National Football League power.

"We have it all going now," said the 67-year-old Brown, who built an NFL dynasty at Cleveland 25 years ago.

Brown made the surprise announcement New Year's Day that he was turning over the head coaching reins to his longtime assistant Bill Johnson. Brown will continue in the post as general manager of the eight year-old club, which just concluded its best season with an 11-3 record.

"I've conditioned myself for some time and the time has come," said Brown. "I'll handle it," said the man who compiled a career winning percentage of .725 in the high school, college and professional ranks.

"It's no big deal," said Brown, referring to his quiet exit. "It was just the way I wanted to do it."

He said he began seriously considering retirement a year ago at his winter home in LaJolla, Calif.

"There was no hidden, dramatic thing behind my announcement to retire from coaching," he said, adding that his family "sort of hoped I'd go on."

Need A Date? Call Radio Station

BALTIMORE (AP) — Want a date? Try calling Baltimore's on-the-air dating service.

WFBR radio's evening announcer, "Commander" Jim Morton, takes calls between top-40 and oldie records.

Callers seeking dates range in age from 18 up. Some are young people, many are separated or divorced, or elderly persons who say they have difficulty meeting people.

Crank calls are infrequent and — unlike many talk shows — callers usually stick to the matter at hand.

Surrounded by banks of cartridge tapes, coils and tangles of cables, and a control desk covered with telephones, instrument panels and turntables, Morton takes the first calls just after he goes on the air at 7 p.m.

The affable, bearded Washington, D.C., native jokes with a teen-ager called "Chopper" who just wanted to get on the air "to show my friends" and a Libra who wants to talk to Tom whose girlfriend died.

Pushing his mop of brown hair out of his eyes, he puts off a man who wants his "case" to be the first heard. The

Workshops Overcome Shyness

LOS ANGELES (AP) — She is a bright and pretty college freshman who got A's in all her high school classes, but never quite learned how to communicate in a positive way with others.

He is a shy and withdrawn senior who would like to know her better, but when he sees her on campus, he generally stares down at the sidewalk, mumbles "hi" under his breath and quickly walks past.

These are fairly typical examples of nonassertive behavior or shyness. It's a trait that is being examined more now partly because of the women's liberation movement, psychologists say.

"In the past, women were taught it was appropriate for them to be nonassertive, but now the world is changing, and both men and women realize it's more important to express their feelings and to be honest," says Dr. John Nicks, chairman of the social sciences division at Pepperdine College in Malibu.

Because bashful is no longer beautiful, many colleges are now offering "assertiveness workshops" to help students overcome shyness and to show them how to express directly and comfortably what they want. They are taught they can be assertive, even aggressive, without being abrasive.

"Children are told they should be seen and not heard, and as they grow up, it's sometimes hard for them to learn how to interact with others in

Lost An Aide, Gained A Judge

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) — San Joaquin County Public Defender Robert N. Chargin lost his top assistant recently when his wife, Ann, was sworn in as the judge of the municipal court's new civil department.

She became Stockton's first woman judge.

She joined the Stockton law firm of Chargin and Briscoe in 1963 and married Chargin soon afterward.

"We've been together ever since," says the 52-year-old Mrs. Chargin, who for years has been her husband's right hand woman, serving in the No. 2 spot on a 23-lawyer staff and occupying an office next to his.

Things won't be the same, the Chargin's agreed.

"But," his wife added, "law is an important thing in our lives. We have differences, but both of us are very idealistic about our profession."

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR WEDNESDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Mixed influences. Some past agreements may have to be revised, strengthened. However, competition should enliven the day nicely.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Your innate sympathy for your fellowman could lead you astray now, so take all factors into account if asked for favors — material or otherwise. Curb emotions.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): A domestic situation may have you uptight at the moment, but you can offset the tension by immersing yourself in one of your creative projects.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Friends and (or) associates will be in a mood to discuss the future — theirs and yours. A conscientious effort to be cooperative will pay big dividends.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): If you've something in mind, career-wise, now's the time to speak up. Superiors should be receptive to new ideas — logically presented.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Indications of a good financial break. It may come in the form of unexpected dividends from a past shrewd investment or repayment of a loan long since forgotten.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): A problem now may be in handling activities smoothly, without ruffling tempers or leaving yourself open to misinterpretation. But the Libran's fine sense of balance should help you to cope.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): You may face some petty annoyances. Shake them off with a philosophical attitude and settle down to serious work. Much can be accomplished now.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): In whatever you do or say, emphasize your most charming manner, which can outwit opposition, help prevent friction. News of interest indicated.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Excellent aspects now encourage all your interests, but don't "upset the applecart" through impulsiveness, superfluous moves, unwise strategy.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Mixed influences. Certain situations may prove confusing, but remain calm. Anxiety or hasty action further complicate matters.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Good offerings indicated. Stress your competence and do not hesitate to accept another's idea if practical. Intellectual pursuits favored.

YOU BORN TODAY are a highly idealistic individual, intellectually inclined and noted for your unswerving dependability and practicality. You are less reserved and inhibited than most other Capricornians; make friends easily, but may have only a few close companions. Love of home and family is another one of your outstanding traits, and you will go to any length to give of your best to keep them happy.

Fields in which you could win great success: medicine, the law, journalism, music and writing. In the latter field, your greatest eminence may come from writing mystery stories.

The National Institute of Health was originally called the U. S. Zoological Laboratory.

The greatest seller of any record to date is "White Christmas" by Irving Berlin.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — Well, guess it's time to finish up the New Year's list of resolutions, which was begun last week but was delayed by a late meeting of the Procrastinator Club's 1972 convention.

Regarding football telecasts, we resolve that in 1976 we:

—Will refuse to watch any bowl game that doesn't bear the title of Super, Rose, Orange, Sugar or Cotton.

—Will ask CBS' and NBC's New York stations, for all us Californians out here on the East Coast, to show Los Angeles Rams games on Sundays instead of the inferior battles of the local stiff.

—If it's no go on the Rams, we'll take the Redskins' games.

—Well then, how about the Dallas Cowboys' games?

—Okay, we won't quibble. Give us Minnesota games.

—Miami or Pittsburgh games; that's a non-negotiable demand.

—Chicago?

Regarding TV commercials, we resolve that in 1976 we:

—Will get a boa constrictor, set it loose in a supermarket and see if it squeezes Mr. Whipple.

—Will find an unaired commercial in which a real housewife, after comparing her brand of soap to the one being touted, says, "I'll keep using my brand, pal. Your stuff would burn the hide off a buffalo."

—Will attack any sponsor whose commercials are louder than the show being sponsored. The attack will consist of stomping into the sponsor's office and shouting, "Hey, Jack, I'm trying to sleep!"

Regarding television programs, we resolve that in 1976 we:

—Will propose a situation comedy about a widower with three sons, a widow with three daughters, a divorcee, two doctors, 15 cops, eight blacks, three Spanish-Americans and a network executive. It will be called "The Spinoff Family."

—Will propose a televised award show covering all the honors handed out in last year's 10 or so awards shows. All the nominees will gather in a stadium, if one large enough can be found. Each nominee will get an award and be allowed to speak for 30 minutes.

—Will try not to watch TV coverage of the winter and summer Olympic games, which have become a crashing, bloated bore. Will play poker instead.

—Will play poker during TV coverage of the Democratic and republican conventions but with an ear cocked in case someone gets historic and nominates somebody without first saying, "He is a man who..."

—Will write the autobiography of Millard Fillmore in hope of recouping poker funds lost during the Olympics and the conventions.

Regarding these and other New Year's resolutions for 1976, we:

—Have decided, on reflection, not to keep them. Maybe next year....

American Indian Day is always celebrated on the fourth Friday in September.

Peter Stuyvesant, the first governor of New York, was famous for his peg leg. He lost his leg in an unsuccessful attempt to recapture the Spanish-held island of St. Maarten for the Dutch in 1644.

LE Board Elects Officers; Approves Appropriation

The Logan Elm Board of Education met Monday night and elected officers for 1976. Roger Hobbie was re-elected president of the board and Virginia Wood was re-elected vice president. The board also adopted a temporary appropriation measure for the year totaling $2,396,228.68.

Financially, the Logan Elm Board finished 1975 with a balance of $253.19. Under old business, the board members discussed meeting with the Pickaway County Commissioners concerning the widening of the Tarlton Road which passes directly in front of Logan Elm High School. Since the road is extremely narrow and extensively traveled, the board is requesting that it be widened.

Mileage for the clerk of the board was set at 12 cents per mile she actually travels while on board business.

The board also fixed the time and place of its meetings during 1976. During the months of April through October, the board will meet at 8 p.m. on the first Monday of the month and November through March, the board will meet at 7:30 p.m. on the same day of the month.

Compensation for service on the board of education was set at $20 per meeting with a maximum of 12 meetings being paid each year.

Visitors at the meeting Monday talked to the board concerning the building rental policy. The board decided to rent the Laurelville gym to this group for one night per week on a long-term basis of a minimum of 15 weeks and the total rental fee is payable in advance.

In other action, the board authorized the clerk to borrow $165,000 to meet the January payroll and to pay the monthly bills and renewed the depository contract with the Saltcreek Valley Bank in Laurelville.

One resignation was accepted with regret at the meeting. Mrs. Virginia Courtwright, reading teacher at Washington Twp. School advised the board of her retirement effective Feb. 1. The board is now accepting applications for the position.

The tax rates as determined by the county budget commission were accepted which means that the operating rate is 22.6 mills and the bond retirement is three mills leaving the total school millage at 25.6. This figure represents a 5.5 mill reduction over last year's rates.

A resolution of necessity was passed to renew the membership of each board member with the Ohio School Boards Association's liability insurance plan.

The following people were approved to attend a negotiation briefing in Columbus on Jan. 8: principals Charles Dean, Dow West, David Gleason, Charles Pritchard and Dale Drake; board members Frank Seimer and Virginia Wood.

In final action during the evening, the board authorized local superintendent John Henn to attend the Pickaway County Community Resource Development seminar on Jan. 14 and 21.

President Attends CIA Official's Rites

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard S. Welch had a reputation in the CIA as a brilliant officer, a scholar-spy the embattled agency could little afford to lose.

He is being buried today at Arlington National Cemetery, in a military ceremony, two weeks after he was assassinated outside his home in Athens. President Ford planned to attend the nondenominational funeral service at the Memorial Chapel of Ft. Meyer, adjacent to the cemetery.

Welch's body was to be carried from the chapel to the gravesite on a horse-drawn caisson. A three-volley musket salute was planned.

Welch, 46, was shot down by an unknown assailant as he returned home from a Christmas party after being publicly identified as a CIA official.

He had been listed officially as a special assistant at the U.S. Embassy in Athens but recently was identified by a Washington quarterly called "Counterspy" as the CIA representative in Peru before being assigned to Athens last May. An Athens newspaper named him as one of a number of CIA officials operating in Greece. He had earlier been identified by a Peruvian newspaper as a CIA agent.

Mike Ackerman, a former CIA agent who worked with Welch in Guyana in 1968 and 1969, said in an interview Monday that "in his profession," the slain official "was shrewd, meticulous and correct."

But he said the U.S. government failed to protect its agents following public criticism of intelligence operations and sent Welch into the field "poorly covered, trying to do a job that was almost an impossibility."

Ackerman quit the CIA last May with the goal of defending the agency following disclosure of some of its secret operations, including assassination plots against foreign leaders.

"If there was one man the CIA could afford to lose the least it was probably Dick," Ackerman said of his slain former colleague. "His sport was predictably the marathon, his game was chess, but his passion was intelligence," Ackerman said. He recalled that Welch, 10 years his senior, "whipped the pants off me in a mile" run when the two were in South America, finishing the race in less than six minutes.

Millionaire Drawing Set In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Lottery's Millionaire drawing is a time for dreams and some of the 100 contestants vying for the prize here today have come up with some good ones.

Lynette Bordner of Montpelier quips that if she wins a big prize she'll increase her husband's allowance from $1 to $2 a week.

Richard Partin of Hamilton says he "plans to have fun" if he wins and Harley Riley of Dayton says he plans "to do everything I haven't been able to do if I become a millionaire."

And of course, there are the cautious ones. Ralph Graven of Akron says if he wins he'll splurge a little and then "tuck the rest away for a rainy day."

These "dreamers" are among the 96 Ohioans and four Indiana residents who will compete in the seventh Millionaire drawing of the lottery.

The top winner will receive $50,000 in 20 annual payments. A $100,000 and $50,000 prize also will be awarded as well as seven $10,000 prizes. Each contestant is assured of at least $1,000.

Ohio Lottery spokesmen said this will be the first time the millionaire drawing will be televised.

Two of the Indiana contestants, Betty Rhoades and Charles Krominaker, are from Fort Wayne; a Fortville entry is Eddie Gipson and the fourth out-of-stater is Earl Hampton of Richmond. Of Ohio cities, Cleveland will send five contestants, Cincinnati will send eight and Columbus will send five.

The millionaire pool is made up of $20 winners from the weekly Ohio lotteries. A drawing is held after 30 million tickets are sold.

Boycott Effect Low?

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — School officials said the weather and other things prevented an accurate estimate of the effect of an anti-busing boycott on attendance in Jefferson County schools.

Officials said attendance was lower than normal at some schools Monday, normal at some and higher than normal at others. They added that attendance is often down on Mondays and on the first day after a long vacation, and that cold weather also contributes to absenteeism.

Officials noted that all three conditions existed Monday. Some principals said they felt some children might have been kept home because of the call for a boycott, but couldn't estimate how many.

David Espin, assistant superintendent of schools in charge of pupil personnel, said about 90 per cent of the 121,700 students in the city county system attend school on an average day and estimated attendance Monday was in the low 80 per cent range.

Former Senator Dead

DALLAS (AP) — William A. Blakley, appointed twice from Texas, in 1957 and 1960, to serve unexpired terms in the U.S. Senate, died Monday at 77.

Women's Aglow Fellowship Sets Meeting

The first meeting of the Chillicothe Women's Aglow International Fellowship will be held 7 p.m. Monday at the Valley House Restaurant in Central Center located on Route 50 west.

The Women's Aglow Fellowship is an inter-denominational fellowship, organized to bring together women of all churches to praise in one Body. Meetings will be the second Monday of each month at the Valley House.

John Warren Foster, Program Director of WCVO, the Christian Voice of Central Ohio will be the speaker. WCVO broadcasts only Christmas programs and is the only station of its kind in the Central Ohio area.

Foster has pastored churches in New York and New Mexico, and served as an evangelist for three years. He has been a professional broadcaster since 1969, and feels the calling to pioneer new Christian stations in the United States and introduce a truly evangelistic format.

A minimal cost per person for the dinner will be charged and husbands are welcome. Reservations should be in by Friday.

For reservations, call, Mrs. Sam Chirchill, 614-998-4947; Mrs. Jay Lloyd, 614-772-5312; or Mrs. John Wishart, 614-773-1621.

A-C Board Members Sworn In

At its organizational meeting Saturday, the Amanda-Clearcreek Board of Education gave the oath of office to new members Donald Davis and Nancy Huffines. Maynard Miller was elected president of the board and Robert Foster was elected vice president.

The second Monday of each month at 7 p.m. was established as the regular meeting time of the board. The board will meet at the Amanda Building in January, March, May, July, September and November and will meet at the Stoutsville Building in February, April, June, August, October and December.

Interim appropriations were adopted and the clerk was authorized to pay the bills in 1976 as the money is available. The next regular meeting of the board will be Jan. 12.

Members of council agreed to attend the Pickaway County Community Development Seminar planned Jan. 14 and Jan. 21. The village will pay expenses.

Discussion was held on problems associated with the northend storm sewer. A study will be made to determine if the project qualifies for federal monies offered by the Department of Housing and Urban Renewal.

And, in a similar move, council agreed to question the Teays Valley Board of Education to determine a schedule for the board's completion of a swale to be constructed around board-owned land in the northend to make it drain surface water into the TV storm sewer.

Members also discussed the instructed joint application with Pickaway County Commissioners and the village of South Bloomfield for the formation of a sewer district. It is apparently the first step in applying for funds from the Federal Environmental Protection Agency.

The next meeting of council will be Monday, Jan. 19, at 7 p.m. in the Municipal Building.

Commissioners Hire Dog Warden Aide

George Boysel, Circleville, was employed by Pickaway County Commissioners Dick T. Tootle, L. Robert Liston and Donald Strous as a dog warden assistant.

In the story appearing in Monday's edition of The Herald the Pickaway County Health Department was inadvertently omitted from the list of individuals and agencies thanked by Ned Harden, resigning chairman of the planning commission.

TOURNEY PARTICIPANTS — The Circleville Church of the Nazarene Teen Bible Quiz Team competed in the third annual Indianapolis Invitational Bible Quiz at the Indianapolis, Ind. West Side Church. After a three-overtime sudden death loss to the Columbus, Ohio Shepherd Nazarene, Circleville settled for third place. First Place honors went to the Indianapolis West Side "A" team. The quizzing is over the Book of Matthew and is a part of an international-interdenominational Bible Quiz program for youth. Participating in the quiz, from the left, are: Brent Park, captain; Robin Manson, Trent Park and Dusty Tipton.

Ed Summers Assumes Control Of New Holland Government

Edward Summers, newly-elected mayor of New Holland, took charge of the village government Monday at the annual reorganizational meeting.

Other members of council are president-elect Josef Lewis, incumbent councilmen Ivan Hyer, Robert Frazier, and Russel Jacobs, and new members Wesley Ruth and Ned Shaw.

During the meeting, councilmen met with Tim Murphy of SEICO, Inc., engineer on the proposed $1.6 sewage facility, who noted that the facility's plan had been finalized and would be submitted to the Environmental Protection Agency for approval on Jan. 19.

The village, he said, would probably have their decision within two months. Chances that New Holland would receive the partial grant offered by the EPA are good, he noted, as the village's priority number for funding is 30.

Councilmen also ordered SEICO, Inc. to begin pre-application for $100,000 grant from the Department of Housing and Urban Development at the request of Mayor Summers. The money, if received, would be used to upgrade the village water system and repair the town hall.

Council failed to approve the appointment of Frank Wood as Police Chief. Wood, who served previously in the post until 1972, had been highly recommended by both Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff and Fayette County Sheriff Don Thompson.

In other business, council appointed standing committees, set the salary of the police chief at $2,500 a year, passed the annual appropriations ordinance, approved a mutual aid fire contract with Clarksburg, approved the appointment of Lincoln Schwartz and Jay Hyer to the Board of Public Affairs, and tabled a proposal to increase compensation for the village's volunteer firefighters.

Mayor Summers also proclaimed the week of Jan. 4 through 10 at New Holland Lion's Club Week in honor of the organization's 25th anniversary.

Next scheduled meeting of the group is Monday, Feb. 2, at 7:30 p.m. at the town hall.

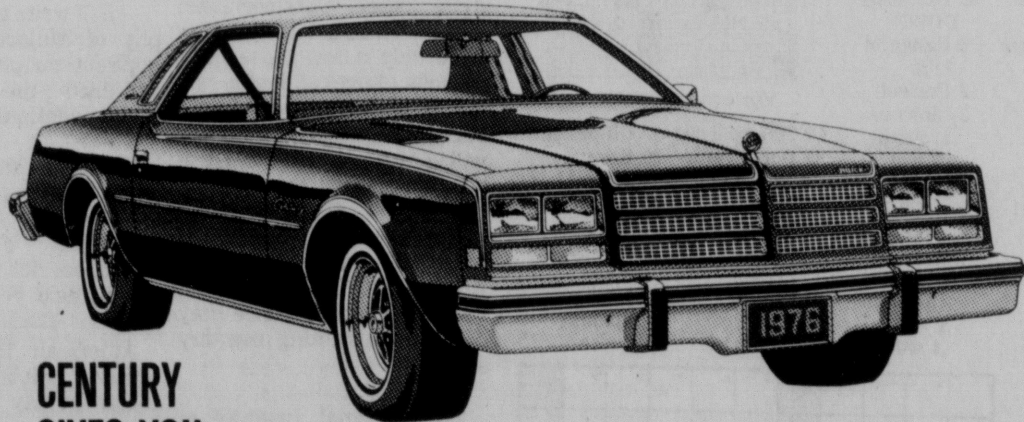

County Budget Commission Organized

The Pickaway County Budget Commission consisting of treasurer Robert Wood, auditor Margaret Remy and prosecuting attorney Richard Gerhardt met Monday and organized for the year.

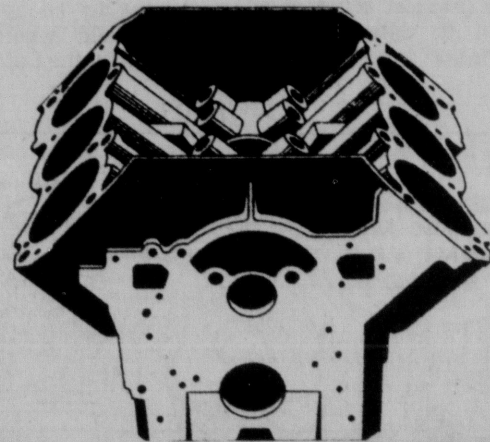

Wood was elected president; Gerhardt, vice president and Mrs. Remy, secretary.

During the meeting, the commission approved the estimated receipts and balances for the year and approved the budget of the health department at the same level as it was last year.

LE Board Elects Officers; Approves Appropriation

The Logan Elm Board of Education met Monday night and elected officers for 1976. Roger Hobbie was re-elected president of the board and Virginia Wood was re-elected vice president. The board also adopted a temporary appropriation measure for the year totaling $2,396,228.68.

Financially, the Logan Elm Board finished 1975 with a balance of $253.19.

Under old business, the board members discussed meeting with the Pickaway County Commissioners concerning the widening of the Tarlton Road which passes directly in front of Logan Elm High School. Since the road is extremely narrow and extensively traveled, the board is requesting that it be widened.

Mileage for the clerk of the board was set at 12 cents per mile she actually travels while on board business.

The board also fixed the time and place of its meetings during 1976. During the months of April through October, the board will meet at 8 p.m. on the first Monday of the month and November through March, the board will meet at 7:30 p.m. on the same day of the month.

Compensation for service on the board of education was set at $20 per meeting with a maximum of 12 meetings being paid each year.

Visitors at the meeting Monday talked to the board concerning the building rental policy. The board decided to rent the Laurelville gym to this group for one night per week on a long-term basis of a minimum of 15 weeks and the total rental fee is payable in advance.

In other action, the board authorized the clerk to borrow $165,000 to meet the January payroll and to pay the monthly bills and renewed the depository contract with the Salt Creek Valley Bank in Laurelville.

One resignation was accepted with regret at the meeting. Mrs. Virginia Courtright, reading teacher at Washington Twp. School advised the board of her retirement effective Feb. 1. The board is now accepting applications for the position.

The tax rates as determined by the county budget commission were accepted which means that the operating rate is 22.6 mills and the bond retirement is three mills leaving the total school millage at 25.6. This figure represents a 5.5 mill reduction over last year's rates.

A resolution of necessity was passed to renew the membership of each board member with the Ohio School Boards Association's liability insurance plan.

The following people were approved to attend a negotiation briefing in Columbus on Jan. 8: principals Charles Dean, Dow West, David Gleason, Charles Pritchard and Dale Drake; board members Frank Seimer and Virginia Wood.

In final action during the evening, the board authorized local superintendent John Henn to attend the Pickaway County Community Resource Development seminar on Jan. 14 and 21.

President Attends CIA Official's Rites

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard S. Welch had a reputation in the CIA as a brilliant officer, a scholar-spy the embattled agency could little afford to lose.

He is being buried today at Arlington National Cemetery, in a military ceremony, two weeks after he was assassinated outside his home in Athens. President Ford planned to attend the nondenominational funeral service at the Memorial Chapel of Ft. Meyer, adjacent to the cemetery.

Welch's body was to be carried from the chapel to the gravesite on a horse-drawn caisson. A three-volley musket salute was planned.

Welch, 46, was shot down by an unknown assailant as he returned home from a Christmas party after being publicly identified as a CIA official.

He had been listed officially as a special assistant at the U.S. Embassy in Athens but recently was identified by a Washington quarterly called "Counterspy" as the CIA representative in Peru before being assigned to Athens last May. An Athens newspaper named him as one of a number of CIA officials operating in Greece. He had earlier been identified by a Peruvian newspaper as a CIA agent.

Mike Ackerman, a former CIA agent who worked with Welch in Guyana in 1968 and 1969, said in an interview Monday that "in his profession," the slain official "was shrewd, meticulous and correct."

But he said the U.S. government failed to protect its agents following public criticism of intelligence operations and sent Welch into the field "poorly covered, trying to do a job that was almost an impossibility."

Ackerman quit the CIA last May with the goal of defending the agency following disclosure of some of its secret operations, including assassination plots against foreign leaders.

"If there was one man the CIA could afford to lose the least it was probably Dick," Ackerman said of his slain former colleague. "His sport was predictably the marathon, his game was chess, but his passion was intelligence," Ackerman said. He recalled that Welch, 10 years his senior, "whipped the pants off me in a mile" run when the two were in South America, finishing the race in less than six minutes.

Millionaire Drawing Set In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Lottery's Millionaire drawing is a time for dreams and some of the 100 contestants vying for the prize here today have come up with some good ones.

Lynette Bordner of Montpelier quips that if she wins a big prize she'll increase her husband's allowance from $1 to $2 a week.

Richard Partin of Hamilton says he "plans to have fun" if he wins and Harley Riley of Dayton says he plans "to do everything I haven't been able to do if I become a millionaire."

And of course, there are the cautious ones. Ralph Graven of Akron says if he wins he'll splurge a little and then "tuck the rest away for a rainy day."

These "dreamers" are among the 96 Ohioans and four Indiana residents who will compete in the seventh Millionaire drawing of the lottery.

The top winner will receive $50,000 in 20 annual payments. A $100,000 and $50,000 prize also will be awarded as well as seven $10,000 prizes. Each contestant is assured of at least $1,000.

Ohio Lottery spokesmen said this will be the first time the millionaire drawing will be televised.

Two of the Indiana contestants, Betty Rhoades and Charles Krominaker, are from Fort Wayne; a Fortville entry is Eddie Hampton and the fourth out-of-stater is Earl Hampton of Richmond. Of Ohio cities, Cincinnati will send five contestants, Cleveland will send eight and Columbus will send five.

The millionaire pool is made up of $20 winners from the weekly Ohio lotteries. A drawing is held after 30 million tickets are sold.

Boycott Effect Low?

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — School officials said the weather and other things prevented an accurate estimate of the effect of an anti-busing boycott on attendance in Jefferson County schools.

Officials said attendance was lower than normal at some schools Monday, normal at some and higher than normal at others. They added that attendance is often down on Mondays and on the first day after a long vacation, and that cold weather also contributes to absenteeism.

Officials noted that all three conditions existed Monday. Some principals said they felt some children might have been kept home because of the call for a boycott, but couldn't estimate how many.

David Espin, assistant superintendent of schools in charge of pupil personnel, said about 90 per cent of the 121,700 students in the city county system attend school on an average day and estimated attendance Monday was in the low 80 per cent range.

DALLAS (AP) — William A. Blakley, appointed twice from Texas, in 1957 and 1960, to serve unexpired terms in the U.S. Senate, died Monday at 77.

Women's Aglow Fellowship Sets Meeting

The first meeting of the Chillicothe Women's Aglow International Fellowship will be held 7 p.m. Monday at the Valley House Restaurant in Central Center located on Route 50 west.

The Women's Aglow Fellowship is an inter-denominational fellowship, organized to bring together women of all churches to praise in one body. Meetings will be the second Monday of each month at the Valley House.

John Warren Foster, Program Director of WCVO, the Christian Voice of Central Ohio will be the speaker. WCVO broadcasts only Christmas programs and is the only station of its kind in the Central Ohio area.

Foster has pastored churches in New York and New Mexico, and served as an evangelist for three years. He has been a professional broadcaster since 1969, and feels the calling to pioneer new Christian stations in the United States and introduce a truly evangelistic format.

A minimal cost per person for the dinner will be charged and husbands are welcome. Reservations should be in by Friday.

For reservations, call, Mrs. Sam Churchill, 614-998-4947; Mrs. Jay Lloyd, 614-772-5312; or Mrs. John Wishart, 614-773-1621.

A-C Board Members Sworn In

At its organizational meeting Saturday, the Amanda-Clearcreek Board of Education gave the oath of office to new members Donald Davis and Nancy Huffines. Maynard Miller was elected president of the board and Robert Foster was elected vice president.

The second Monday of each month at 7 p.m. was established as the regular meeting time of the board. The board will meet at the Amanda Building in January, March, May, July, September and November and will meet at the Stoutsville Building in February, April, June, August, October and December.

Interim appropriations were adopted and the clerk was authorized to pay the bills in 1976 as the money is available. The next regular meeting of the board will be Jan. 12.
